Borough Refuses Building Permits: Sheehan Says He Will Sue (Again)

Timothy J. Sheehan has threatened once again to sue the Borough.

Late last year, two building permit applications from Mr. Sheehan's 146 Dundas Corporation were denied by Borough Engineer George Olexa. The engineer said he wasn't sure the so-called "Sheehan Building" at Nassau and Markham - for which Mr. Sheehan wanted the permits - was structurally safe for the load involved because some of its materials had been exposed to the elements for many years although they hadn't originally been designed for the weather. Also, he said, one of the permits did not include plans.

In a letter to Mr. Olexa enclosing drawings for the "curtain wall" planned for the outside of the building, Mr. Sheehan says he is submitting the plans "without prejudice to our right to sue you personally for monetary damages and for arbitrary and capricious refusal to issue the permits as applied for."

Mr. Sheehan says he estimates a loss of more than $1,000 a day for interest, increased prices and loss of rent for offices and shops he plans for his building.

He also charges that Mr. Olexa's office "has applied standards it has failed to apply to others seeking similar permits." Doubt about the building's safety is, he says, "based solely on surmise and an obvious desire" to delay and stall any construction.

"Despite requests that you do so," the letter says, "you have declined to state the specific regard in which the plans fail to meet criteria. You have similarly failed to inform us specifically why there is reason to question the building's safety."

Mr. Sheehan sent off his letter to Mayor Robert W. Cawley as well, and to all Council members, Administrator Robert F. Mooney, Building Official Bernard Glover, and municipal attorney Gordon Griffin. He says in his letter that he is sending copies so these officials may take the steps necessary to halt this conduct on your part. If they don't, Mr. Sheehan says, that will be taken to mean they approve.

"We are unanimously behind Mr. Olexa," Mayor Cawley said this week.

It is Mr. Sheehan's contention that the engineer's office should issue building permits first and then, "if your office has sufficient factual basis to do so," deny the required "Certificate of Occupancy."

In his letter, he says he will be sending along a "supplement to a slab drawing" relating to the building, but although the letter was written February 9, Mr. Olexa said on Tuesday that he has not yet received the drawing.

The Borough engineer asked Mr. Sheehan for permission to go inside the unfinished building to make a "visual inspection" of the effects of weathering. In a reply received Tuesday, Mr. Sheehan says he wants to know first why Mr. Olexa wants access to the interior.

Asked whether Mr. Sheehan is any closer to receiving his permits, Mr. Olexa said his office would have to study the drawings to see whether they complied with the uniform construction code. Lawyers have told him, the engineer added, that it is all right to withhold building permits until he is satisfied that the existing structure is safe.

Snow Lingers On and So Do Protests Of Those Who Had Cars Towed Away

When is a tow job a snowjob?

A disgruntled Princeton motorist claims it's when he had to pay $63 in towing and storage charges (see Mailbox, page 14) after his car was towed by Perna, Inc. during the big snow storm that hit Princeton and the East Coast two weeks ago. And, he adds, his car was severely damaged in the process.

Another Princeton resident in a letter in last week's TOWN TOPICS accused Perna of a "ripoff" when she had to pay $68.25 to retrieve her car, which had been stored for two days.

Not so, says Al Perna of Perna's which operates a body repair shop and towing service on Route 206. "We didn't make out. The only one who saved money was the Borough. As far as I'm concerned, I thought we were doing the community a good turn by clearing the streets so they could plow."

Of the 43 cars that were towed away, Perna's was responsible for more than three-fourths. Although he never made an exact count, Mr. Perna reports that his wreckers probably towed as many as 35.

First, some background. To clear streets of abandoned cars so that plows could clear major roads like Nassau and Wither- spoon from curb to curb, Chief Michael Carnevale requested aid from towing firms in the area. In addition to Perna's, Princeton Exxon at 271 Nassau Street, and Larry's Sunoco, which has a station across the street at Nassau and Murray and one on Route 1, responded.

None was particularly eager. "If we turned it down, it would be a mark against us," observed Mr. Perna. "After all, it is part of our business."

For Chief Carnevale, the only alternative was for the police to hire wreckers. "We would also have to have insurance and be liable for any damage," the Chief said.

In addition, there was the problem of what to do with the cars. Chief Carnevale said that police would probably have had to store them in a public parking lot. "That would tie up the lot for other citizens, and we didn't want to get involved in that. But something had to be done."

Both of TOWN TOPICS' letter writers had parked their cars near the Dinky station on lower University Place and had been stranded in New York. Both called police and told them of their plight, but were told nothing could be done.

"Normally, there are about 90 cars parked in the railroad area," Chief Carnevale remarked. "Only about a dozen were towed, so about 90 percent of the people read about the storm and took the proper measures."

Not all car owners paid the same towing charges. Exxon reported charging $25-$5 above its usual fee, "because of conditions." Bert Hughes, the proprietor, said his station towed only four or five cars. The normal storage fee, he said, is $3-$5 a day. All the owners of cars he towed appeared the next day, so none had to pay any storage fee.

Larry's Sunoco reported charging a sliding scale of $15 to $25, "depending on how much work was involved getting the car out." One was buried by a snow plow, he recalled, and it took a "couple of hours" to dig out and get it towed.

He reported towing only about four cars because he had no room for storage. He too, was not involved with any storage fees.

Is $50 too high to pay for towing? Maybe not, after hearing Mr. Perna's side.

First, he pointed out, it did not involve simply driving up to the car, hooking up and driving off. It involved digging out locked cars in a driving blizzard all through the night.

"It was all extra work, he said, "requiring two men to a truck."

Each car had to be flatbedded on a truck or jacked up and a dolly slid under the rear wheels, he reported. "On some, we had to disconnect the transmission before we could tow them."

"We worked all through the night, fighting the elements."

That night, Mr. Perna said, his firm had four trucks out ($60,000 worth of equipment), two men to a truck. In addition, two girls were needed to collect towing charges, release the cars and answer the phones.

"No one has the room we do," he continued. "We had a man plowing all night so we would have room for the cars once we got them here. That's another man."

Not all were charged a $50 towing fee, he said. Those whose cars were flatbedded were. "On a clear day - with a key - the charge for a flatbed tow is $35, he pointed out.

To dig out, hook up and get back took an average of an hour and a half a car, Mr. Perna said. "All nerve wracking work. We actually fell back. On the bottom line we didn't make a cent. It wasn't worth it."

Actually, he said he felt the owners ought to be glad. "If I could have my car dug out during a blizzard and safely towed and then come up here the next day and drive away - I'd gladly pay $50 for that. Some cars were buried a week."

"It's just sour grapes," interjected a Perna employee. "We're just performing a service. Someone jumps off a train, finds out his car has been towed and he's got a ticket and he takes it out on us. The last time he may have been towed was 25 years ago when it was probably $5."

Since then, towing charges, like everything else has gone up," Mr. Perna agreed. Fuel costs, license fees, overtime - all have risen.

"People think $50 is too high. Well, I pay $1,200 a month in taxes on my property. That's a lot of money. I'd like to say that's too high. I'd like to see those taxes reduced"

As for cars being damaged, Mr. Perna acknowledged that one or two were but he insisted it was the result of the snow plows. "None was our doing."

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said on Tuesday that he and Council discussed re-imhursing people who had been towed, especially those who had parked on University Place, taken a train to New York and were unable to get back. However, he said, Council decided it would be too impractical to work out different standards for different kinds of cars. "There are certain acts of nature so calamitous," he said, "that some people get hurt and there's just nothing you can do about it."

"Any fool can tow a car," chipped in one of his employees. "To do it right without damaging it takes skill. You should see the way they tow cars in New York. They use crow bars, they crucify the cars. We didn't do any damage."

FLATS?

ZARC Recommends. A proposal that would allow flats in the proposed Constitution Hill development but not in any other new Township construction -- at least, for the time being -- will be discussed at the Planning Board's work session next Monday at 8 in the Valley Road Building.

ZARC, the Zoning Amendment Review Committee, has made the recommendation by a 3-2 vote. Township Mayor Josie Hall and Jerome Rose voted "no," and Township Committee representative Hugo Hoogenboom and Borough members William H. Walker and Martin P. Lomardo voted "yes."

The committee suggests a Township ordinance which says that no flats can be built after January 18 of this year, except in existing single-family homes. An exception is made in cases where there are pending applications, and this applies to Constitution Hill

Mayor Hall and Mr. Rose both protest what they regard as special treatment for a small area. In addition, Mr. Rose says the proposal conflicts with the Planning Board's announced policy that high-density in housing should only be allowed if the developer agrees to some subsidized units. He said, in a written memo, that he is also worried because A. Perry Morgan, owner of Constitution Hill, is also chairman of the Planning Board's site plan review committee.

ENERGY IS TOPIC

of Talk By Lillienthal. David E. Lillienthal, whose 50-year career in public service and international development includes his role as founding director of the Tennessee Valley Authority and first chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, will speak Friday at Princeton University on "The Energy Puzzle: Putting It All Together." Mr. Lillienthal lives at 88 Battle Road.

The address, which is open to the public and free of charge, will be held at 8 p.m. in 50 McCosh Hall. It is being delivered under the auspices of the Walter E. Edge Fund and the Central Jersey Engineering Council and will culminate the area celebration of National Engineer's Week. Mr. Lillienthal has spent most of his professional life dealing with the integrated development of energy supply and will offer his perspectives on "putting together the now fragmented pieces of the energy puzzle."

"The time has come," he believes, "when there are not a thousand issues but only one - the capacity of the energy supply enterprises (public, private, cooperative,

Budget, Pike Win

The $9 million school budget passed, but few voters bothered to go out into the chilly Tuesday air to cast a ballot: five percent in the Borough, six and a half percent in the Township.

Winthrop Pike with 430 votes and Dale Maddeo with 416, won the two Township seats. It will be Mr. Pike's fifth term. Challenger Robert W. Johnson - who said he will run again next year - received 220.

Robin Wallack, unopposed, received 153 votes and Joseph P. Moore, also unopposed, received 145 for the two Borough seats available on the board.

The Township budget vote was 450 to 135 for current expenses, 432 to 145 for capital expenses. In the Borough, the vote on current expenses was 142 to 68, and 139 to 68 for capital outlay.

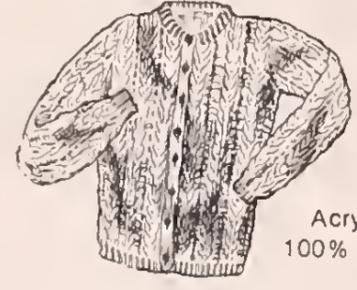

"I promise," said Mr. Pike after the count, "that I won't keep running forever."

municipal) to meet the needs of the America of the 1970s. The well-being, even the very survival, of our American society is in danger if there is further stalemated argument about energy supply."

Lillienthal is founder, chairman and chief executive officer of the Development and Resources Corporation, a private firm that offers consulting services to governments here and abroad to identify and develop natural and human resources. As a writer he has contributed to such national journals as Smithsonian, The New York Times Magazine, and Atlantic Monthly. He is the author of five books and the ongoing series of the Journals of David E. Lillienthal, whose six volumes to date have been published by Harper & Row.

2,600% INCREASE In Insurance Premium.
"It's a gigantic rip-off!" said Township Mayor Hall bitterly.
Committee and mayor were reacting in shock to Administrator Joseph R Nini's announcement that the annual premium for a so-called "umbrella" policy had been increased by nearly 2,600 percent: from $1,035 to $26,000.

Not only that. The 1975 three-year policy, now up for renewal, will be renewed by the company for only one year. Not only that. The company has "requested" that the Township increase its automobile insurance for another $3,700 in premiums, for a total of $29,700.

The policy is a $1 million
"catastrophe" policy, designed to cover such things as lawsuits. The Township's basic, underlying policy is with the Royal Globe Group; this umbrella is with Great American Insurance.
However, according to Charles Tomney of the Walter B Howe Agency, which handles insurance for the Township, the increased premium isn't even the fault of Great American, but is probably traceable to their "re-insurance carriers," which aren't controlled, as Great American is, by the state of New Jersey. Great American, a New York corporation, is an "admitted" carrier in New Jersey.

Princeton Township, Mr.
Tomney said, has a 36 percent credit on its premiums because of its excellent record. The municipality has no losses, so far, under its underlying policy. Without that credit, the $26,000 would be 36 percent higher, Mr.
Tomney pointed out. He added that insurance companies would like to get out of the municipal insurance business altogether.

At last Wednesday's meeting, Mr. Nini told Committee members they would need to reduce the Township budget in order to pay the premium and still come under the legally-required "cap."

"Suppose we just said 'to hell with catastrophe' insurance" suggested Committee member Hugo Hoogenboom.

Gordon Griffin, the Township's attorney, suggested it might be put to referendum. The "cap" law allows inclusion of an item in a budget if it has passed in a referendum.

"If the voters say 'yes,' keep the catastrophe insurance, then we can go outside the
'cap' by that much," he observed. "If they say 'no,' then we might be free of liability.
Probably..."

David Blair suggested lining up a committee of experts to draft a plan, and Mr Griffin promised a resolution to that effect by the March 1 meeting.

MAGRUDER TO ENROLL
At Princeton Seminary.
Former Nixon aide Jeb Stuart Magruder has been accepted as a divinity student at Princeton Theological Seminary. He will begin studies in September leading to a master's degree in three years and plans to specialize in social work.

Mr. Magruder, 43, served a term in Allenwood Federal Prison in 1975 for his involvement in the Watergate cover-up and for his perjury at the first Watergate trial. He was deputy director of the Committee to Re-elect the President at the time of the break-in at the Democratic party headquarters and later confessed to giving $100,000 of Nixon campaign money to G.
Gordon Liddy to be used to develop an intelligence operation for detecting any planned disruption of the 1972 Republican campaign effort.

Currently vice-president of Young Life, a Christian social service organization based in Colorado, Mr. Magruder will take a leave of absence from his Colorado post to work toward ordination as a minister in the United Presbyterian Church. He is one of 150 students selected from a pool of about 350 applicants for the entering class and is expected to live with his wife and children off-campus because the Seminary does not have dormitory facilities for families.

The new candidate for the ministry received a bachelor's degree from Williams College in 1958 and a master's in business administration from the University of Chicago in 1963. He worked in several business positions and was president of two small cosmetic companies in Santa Monica, Calif., until he was appointed an Assistant to the President in the Nixon Administration in 1969. He was also deputy director of communications at the White House in 1970 and 1971 and headed Nixon's inauguration committee in 1973.

CULVERTS, LANDMARKS

On Council Agenda. Two measures which involve Princeton Township as much as Princeton Borough, will be on the agenda when Borough Council holds a work session at 8 p.m. this Thursday in Borough Hall.

The Landmarks ordinance draft, developed after extensive work last fall, will be subjected to Council scrutiny.
The ordinance is almost identical to the Township's Landmarks ordinance, except that it calls for Council itself to designate landmarks. In the Township, that assignment is given to a Landmarks Commission.

The new Snowden Lane culvert, which spills over into both municipalities, is also on Council's agenda. Originally planned to be 20 feet wide and six feet high, it was reduced in stature to 15 feet in width after Township residents in the area protested. Now it's back to 20 feet again.

Mayor Robert W. Cawley said that after Council members reach a consensus on size, they will discuss the project with Township Committee.

If You're Elderly.... especially if you're elderly, but even if you're not, you're invited to Borough Hall next Monday at 5 for a Federally-required public hearing on how to spend Federal revenue - sharing money.

The law requires special attention to requests from elderly citizens.

The meeting is a result of a Borough budget - scheduling problem which was apparently resolved when Administrator
Robert F. Mooney last week went over the heads of state officials straight to Washington.

He was told that the Borough's inadvertent use of an old deadline regarding legal notice of revenue
- sharing meetings was not important, and that a letter would go out from Washington to Trenton telling the state to approve the Borough's budget anyway.

As soon as this is firmly in writing, the Borough will abandon plans to reintroduce the budget
March 9.

GARAGE MOVING ALONG

May Choose Team Soon.
"I'm optimistic," Borough
Mayor Robert W. Cawley said on Tuesday, "that a design team for the parking garage may be chosen by next week."

From the 20 or so applications submitted by the deadline last Wednesday, around half a dozen will be chosen at a conference this Saturday for actual interviews. Council members Nelson van den Blink and Richard Woodbridge, Administrator Robert F.
Mooney, Engineer George Olexa and Mayor Cawley, joined by Planning Board member William Walker as a consultant, will make the selections.

Traffic generated by the new garage still makes Mayor Cawley uneasy, as it does some merchants and people with engineering and architectural backgrounds.

Street circulation can perhaps be re-designed so that the Central Business District can tolerate increased rush-hour densities, the mayor suggested. Another possibility is working out an agreement with employers to stagger the hours when employees arrive and leave.

On Tuesday, March 7, at 5,
the Mayor's Parking Committee will meet in Borough Hall to block out a statement defining just where the parking garage proposal stands, and precisely what is planned.

CAR HITS POLE

And Overturns. While driving on Route 206 between Arretoo Road and Hillside Avenue Sunday afternoon,
Barbara D. Gregory, 42, 87 Hemlock Circle, apparently struck a three-foot snow bank bordering the edge of the roadway. Her car went out of control and skidded for 69 feet, Township police reported.

It then hit a telephone pole and turned on its side, continuing on for another 15 feet. Mrs. Gregory's car was pushed upright by passing motorists. She was treated at Princeton Medical Center for face lacerations.

Two cars collided at 5:16 Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Western Way and Broadmead, bringing injury to two.

Herbert McAneny, 74, 67 Grover Avenue, one of the drivers, sustained abrasions and contusions of the head. His passenger, 16-year old Cornelia Powers, 11 University Place, received a laceration of the neck. Both were treated at the Medical Center.

The other driver, Gerard Noble, 52, 446 Riverside Drive, told Ptl. David Funk, that he had seen the McAneny car stop for the Broadmead stop sign and then pull out in front of him. Mr. McAneny, police report, was unable to recall the accident at all.

Both cars had to be towed away. There were no police charges.

Township police investigated more than a dozen minor accidents last week attributable to icy or poor conditions, but the most unusual happened to a Township dump truck that was plowing on Basin Street near Alexander Road.

The driver, John W. James of Juniper Row, told police his plow struck a metal plate that was covering a Public Service gas excavation. As the blade pushed away the plate, the rear wheels of the truck dropped into the five-foot hole.

Mr. James added that there were no protective barriers at the site to alarm drivers. They were found later nearby on a snowbank. Public Service sent

We're Marching Along

*February's sure
Been bleak,
But hang in there
Just one more week.*

A new and certainly somewhat warmer month will begin Wednesday. So far, February has produced just one day with the temperature above normal, thereby enhancing its reputation as the year's coldest month.

All that will continue at least through the weekend, the Man says, with the usual "storm every three days" already on the weather map's horizon. By Friday, expectations are that more precipitation will be near - probably snow, just possibly rain.

Some day, it will warm up enough so a lot of what we've been putting up with will be washed away.

a wrecker from Trenton to extricate the truck, which sustained only minor damage.

A spokesman for the utility told police that the last time workmen had been at the site was 4 p.m. on Friday, the 10th. The mishap occurred four days later.

Troop 43 Celebrates

"Where have all the Eagles gone?" is the cry going out these days to anybody who once belonged to Boy Scout Troop 43.

Nobody knows exactly where they've all gone, but a lot of them will come home to roost next Saturday, March 4, when Troop 43 celebrates its 60th anniversary with a covered-dish supper, a Court of Honor and an address by the chief Scout executive, Scoutmaster of the Troop is Frank Fornoff.

The celebrations will take place, starting at 6 for the supper, in the Chambers Street Church of Nassau Presbyterian Church. The Court of Honor will be at 7:30, followed by a talk on "Scouting Today and Tomorrow" by Harvey Price, chief Scout executive, who lives in Princeton.

If you were in the troop and want to join the festivities, or if you know the whereabouts of an Eagle, you're asked to write "60th Year Program, Troop 43; 50 Overbrook Drive, Princeton.

Other Plans Made. Manfred Piper, who was senior patrol leader at the Troop's 25th anniversary, is chairman of the 60-year program. Besides the evening celebrations, there will be a 50-mile hike the end of June of this year (destination still to be determined), a summer camp at Yard's Creek Scout Camp the second and third weeks in July and another 50-mile hike in late August.

Kenneth Schwartz and Benjamin Wright, Troop "fathers," have assembled a list of all Troop 43 members who were Eagle Scouts, going back to 1928. Many are men still living in Princeton.

Troop 43's Eagles are:

HOMES, OFFICES TARGET
Of Burglars. Borough police are busy investigating a series of breaking and enterings last week in homes and offices.

Noting the upsurge in break-ins, Chief Michael Carnevale urged neighbors to report any suspicious persons or activity to the police department. "If you know your neighbor's house is going to be vacant for the evening, keep it under surveillance."

Early Monday morning, police received a report from a Chambers Street office of the theft of two stereo systems valued at $400 and a television set valued at $65. Ptl. William Clark on Sunday morning investigated the theft of a hi-fi and radio set with two speakers from an office at 20 Nassau. The office door had been kicked in, police said.

There was a report the same day of two house break-ins. Between 1:30 and 5:30, a cellar door of a Linden Lane home was forced open, as was a second door at the top of the stairs to enter the interior of the home.

It was ransacked and police say an inventory is being taken to determine what was taken. Ptl. Monica Sheehan investigated.

The same officer investigated the ransacking of a Fitzrandolph Road home, reported at 10:50 p.m. Entry was gained by breaking a kitchen window.

The initial investigation revealed nothing was taken.

Two on Murray Place. Two homes on Murray Place were entered, both on Saturday. From one, after forcing open a rear window, the intruder took credit cards. The house was ransacked.

From the second home, a 35mm camera valued at $250 and a pocketbook containing a blue wallet were taken. The pocketbook was recovered in the rear yard and the wallet was found later near the Coin Wash on Nassau Street. There was no money in it, police report. Entry was made by forcing a basement window.

Earlier in the week, two wallets were stolen from a pocketbook left in a dining room of a Hamilton Avenue home. The victim lost $30.

A small hole was drilled in a rear window pane to open the window, police said. Det. Timothy Huizing is continuing the investigation of the theft, which occurred between midnight and 9:38 in the morning.

ASK PUBLIC COMMENT

On Environmental Decision. Vegetable gardens, a playing field or two and a place to spend summertime hours are all in the plan for the so-called "Kleinberg Tract" across Buon Drive from Princeton Community Village.

The Township hopes to acquire the land using Federal HUD funds, and an Environmental Review Record has been compiled by the Township showing that acquisition of the property would not adversely affect the environment. This means no Environmental Impact Statement need be prepared. The finding is required under HUD regulations.

These rules also require the Township to hear public comments on environmental impact -- or lack of it -- and Township Committee has scheduled this hearing for Wednesday, March 15, at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

The estimated figure of $113,720 would also cover development of a summer recreation program for PCV residents and the establishment of a Social Services office.

The Township will not formally ask for the release of Federal money until after the March 15 hearing.

At last Wednesday's Committee meeting, Princeton Environmental Commission chairman Philip Minis suggested that the name

Accused Rapist Confesses

A Trenton school bus driver, Bryant L. Taylor, 23, pleaded guilty last week in Trenton to two criminal charges of rape and carnal abuse and to two disorderly person charges before Superior Court Judge A. Jerome Moore.

Taylor, who was apprehended last Fall by Borough police after a patrolman recognized him from a state police sketch, admitted molesting a 14-year old Princeton girl October 17 while she was jogging on Elm Road. He also admitted raping four days later a 16-year old South Brunswick girl who was bicycling on Raymond Road in Kingston.

Mercer County Prosecutor Anne E. Thompson reported that her office will attempt to dismiss the two disorderly person charges against Taylor at the time of sentencing. They include alleged assaults on two young girls Taylor could receive up to 30 years in prison.

of the tract be changed from the Kleinberg Tract -- which its present owner, Dr. William Kleinberg, does not care for -- to "Village Green," which PCV residents prefer also.

WANT TO RUN?

Republicans Extend Invitation. An open meeting on candidate selection will be held next Wednesday, March 1, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall. The hosts will be members of the Republican County Committee in Princeton Borough.

"The meeting's specific purpose," said Christine St. John, municipal chairman of the county committee, is to encourage the general public to participate in the process of selecting the best candidates to run for office."

Two seats on Borough Council will be open at the end of this year. Incumbent Republican William Selden has already announced that he will not run again. Incumbent Democrat Gus Escher is expected to run.

Filing date for the June primary is April 27.

THEFT REPORT

$700 Typewriter Stolen. An electric typewriter valued at $700 was reported stolen Thursday from an office in Green Hall on the Princeton University campus. Police report no forced entry.

Taken from a third floor Nassau Street office last week was a $65 cassette tape recorder. Again, police report no forced entry.

Two light fixtures valued at $30 each were removed from a commercial building at 22 Tulane Street (reported Friday morning), and a Hightstown resident had two hubcaps stolen from his 1977 car while it was parked Saturday in the lot next to the Princeton Playhouse.

A back seat of the car of a Princeton resident yielded a plectron fire alert unit, owned by one of Princeton's volunteer fire companies. The car, parked on Spruce Street, had been forced open.

Even the sick are not immune. Police report that a patient's wallet was taken from her purse left on a nightstand in her room at the Princeton Medical Center. The victim lost $8 and credit cards. The wallet was found the next day on Witherspoon Street by Ptl. Maria Musso of the Township.

WINDOW, TRUCK HIT

By Snowballs. "We've got some throwers in that area," commented Chief Michael Carnevale this week after he read reports from the police docket of a truck and storm window being struck by snowballs.

The driver of a tractor-trailer told police that his windshield was shattered by ice balls, as he was driving last week on Harrison Street near Franklin Avenue. The broken storm window was reported by a Harris Road resident.

Another act of vandalism was reported by a Trenton resident, who told police Monday that the windshield and both front windows of his car had been broken while it was parked between 3:30 and 11:30 p.m. in a Palmer Square lot. In addition, all four headlamps were broken and all the tires deflated.

Early in the week, a beer mug was hurled through a 5-by-7-foot front display window at Richard's shoe stores, 148-150 Nassau Street. Nothing was taken from inside the window, police said.

Miss Brooks, a junior and a French and History major, graduated from Princeton Day School in 1975. Last year she found time to do volunteer work at Norfolk County Prison, as well as to participate in the Harvard Model U.N., role acting as a delegate from Nigeria. This year, in addition to performing in the Junior class's equivalent of the Princeton Triangle Show she has served as a Village Junior, one of a small group of students selected to be advisors and friends to freshmen.

Of major interest to Miss Brooks has been Wellesley's Slater International Center and she helped organize a Third World seminar which addressed the problems of developing countries. She has plans for the post-graduation future, preferably in an internationally oriented profession such as the U.S. foreign service or in public affairs. When Miss Brooks graduates in June, 1979, another Princeton area woman will be named recipient of the May Margaret Fine Scholarship.

This year's Antiques Show will be open to the public on March 16, from noon to 9; March 17, noon to 9; and March 18, 11 to 5. A special feature will be a lecture on "Floor Coverings in America, 17th to Mid-19th Century," by Sarah Sherrill, associate editor of Antiques magazine, on Friday, March 17, at 11. Tickets may be purchased in advance for $2 each by writing to The Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey, 338 The Great Road, or at the door for $2.50.

The public also is welcome to attend a preview cocktail exhibit on March 15 from 6 to 9. Tickets for this event will be sold at the door for $7.50 each.

TWO ARE CHARGED

In Dodds Lane Entries. Two New Brunswick men have been arrested by Township police and charged with the break-in of two homes on Dodds Lane.

Arrested Friday evening by

Det. Samuel Bianco and Sgt. Anthony Pinelli were Kenneth Macko, 21, and his younger brother, Anthony, 18. Bail on each was set at $1,000 pending their appearance in Township Court on March 16. They were later released to South Brunswick police, who are conducting their own investigation into break-ins in that community.

Acting Lt. Jack Petrone reported that the two admitted entering a home at 291 Dodds Lane Friday (the home had been entered by forcing a garage door leading to a den, and ransacked, but nothing was taken) and in entering a home the previous week at 90 Dodds Lane. Two hundred dollars was reported taken in the latter entry.

According to Lt. Petrone, following a series of breaking and enterings in the eastern end of the Township, particularly in the Dodds Lane area, the Detective Bureau, under the direction of Det. Norman Servis, began a series of surveillances. Taking part were Det. Bianco, Det. Frank Boccanfuso and Det. Sgt. Pinelli.

As he was patrolling the area Friday evening, Det. Bianco noticed a car traveling slowly on Dodds Lane. "It didn't belong there," he said. He stayed in the area and continued back on Dodds Lane where he observed the same car again, this time parked with no one apparently inside. Sgt. Bianco reported that he remained in the area another ten minutes when he noticed a man walking in the middle of Dodds Lane, approximately 50 yards from 291. He was stopped and apprehended.

Sgt. Pinelli then began checking homes in the area that were vacant or where the owners were not in. The first checked was 291. The suspect in Det. Bianco's custody allegedly admitted that he had entered the home.

The second suspect was apprehended, slouched down inside the parked car. Chief Frederick Porter commended the detectives for their ap-

APPEAL WILL BE HEARD

In Subdivision Case. By a 4-0 vote last Wednesday, Township Committee decided to sit as a court and hear the appeal of several Township residents asking reversal of Planning Board approval of a subdivision in the late L.S. Greene's "Brookstone" subdivision.

The appellants must submit a transcript of the Planning Board meetings to Committee, and Committee is required by law to reach a decision 45 days after receiving it.

There is a legal question as to whether Committee should be allowed to hear the appeal at all. Robert Dix, attorney for the appellants, said the ten-day period for filing an appeal when the petition was presented on January 20 to Administrator Joseph R. Nini.

But Ivan Bash, asked by Committee to report since Gordon Griffin had a conflict-of-interest, told Committee members they could hear the question if they wanted to.

"The sticky problem is the efficacy of the legal notice," Mr. Bash explained. "Mr. Dix published the Planning Board decision in the Trentonian on Saturday, January 7 and he had a right to do so. But the Planning Board didn't prepare its written decision until January 10. That is within the ten-day period." Theoretically, he said, the board's decision couldn't even be "known" because it hadn't been committed to written form. Challenged on his views from the floor, Mr. Bash pointed out that a legislative act doesn't become a law upon completion of the vote, but only after it has been signed by the governor.

Formula Sought. In other business, Committee assigned to Mr. Griffin, the Township engineer and the Township assessor the task of meeting to work out an assessment formula for property owners along Bunn Drive.

After assessments had been announced, attorney Reeves Hicks for Galpur, revealed to Committee that his client, New Jersey Bankers and American Can had all signed an agreement to pay for the road according to its cost on a front-foot basis at $45.76 a foot.

The agreement applies, he said, only to a 2,000-foot of road north and east on Ewing. He also asserted that his clients shouldn't be assessed for easements, sidewalks and legal fees.

Princeton Community Village is the chief beneficiary, declared assessor Stuart Robson, and they have been assessed $88,940. The Galpur assessment is $30,623, American Can $93,269 and New Jersey Bankers $4,634.

Bike Path in Limbo. Pedalling once again up The Great Road bike path, Committee agreed, 4-0 to table the question of extending the path. Its anonymous donors have asked that left-over money be used for the extension, but the Township would have to pay $760.

Sharp criticism of the road came from Ricardo Mestres, 96 Rattle Road, who asked why the Township had bothered to plow snow from a bike path, whether anybody had counted the number of people using it, and why the Township couldn't give back the extra money? ("I know," he said, "the donors would have a tax problem.")

"There is a monstrous situation on The Great Road because the path reduces it in width," Mr. Mestres continued. "I think it is questionable to have donors dictate the use of a gift."

The requested extension, Mayor Josie Hall explained, would make a dangerous intersection safer. "Don't look a gift horse in the mouth," she smiled.

"This could be a most expensive gift horse," Mr. Mestres replied. Committee member Kate Litvack asked whether some of the gift had been set aside for maintaining the path.

BUS RIDES FREE

During "Off" Hours. In the first federally-supported program of its kind, Mercer County will begin next Wednesday, March 1, a one-year demonstration of free off-peak bus service on most Mercer Metro Bus System Routes.

Primary objective of this demonstration will be to evaluate the effect of free off-peak bus service. Other objectives will be to improve the economic viability of Mercer County and to attract motorists from their automobiles to transit.

The $625,000 program is supported by a $500,000 grant from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) with remaining funds provided by the Mercer County Improvement Authority. The program is managed by the New Jersey Department of Transportation (NJDOT) using buses provided by the Mercer Metro Division of the Mercer County Improvement Authority and NJDOT.

Buses will be free during the hours of 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and after 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday, with free service all day Sunday and on major holidays. This program will apply to most regularly scheduled Mercer Metro routes operating within Mercer County.

Results of this demonstration will be to evaluate the effect of free off-

World-Wide Flavor of University Community to Be Demonstrated At International Festival on Campus Saturday Open to Everyone

Those who feel that the presence of people of many nationalities is one of the things that makes Princeton unique would do well to stop in with this Saturday at Murray-Dodge Hall on the University campus for the International Center's third annual International Festival.

Between the hours of 4 and 12 midnight there will be arts and crafts from around the world displayed and sold, as well as samples of national cuisines, folk dancing and singing, performances by musical ensembles, showing of films, and folk dancing for everyone after 10.

There are currently some 700 foreign students, faculty members, visiting fellows and staff members at Princeton University, representing some 70 nations. The reason behind the Festival is partly to give groups from different countries an opportunity to share aspects of their own culture and further, to let the community see how closely related are the dances, costumes and folk art from peoples around the world.

The inter-cultural flow is not limited to foreign countries. As part of the afternoon and displays, members of the Princeton art cooperative, different periods of Chinese history will be presented.

The appearance of The Lion, wearing a Lion's Head borrowed from the Chinese consulate in New York City, will signal the start of a series of musical performances at 7:30. There will be Scottish dancing, Chinese singing and dancing and a group performing on Chinese musical instruments. Turkish folk dancing and Australian folk music.

A group will demonstrate a Korean fan dance and another, Korean Karate. Jerry Kaplan will teach and lead the whole ensemble in folk dancing from 10 to midnight.

Beginnings on Ivy Lane. The International Center was founded in 1974 when the Princeton Friends of Foreign Students and the Overseas Wives Committee of the University League decided to merge their efforts and establish a center. Paula Chow, wife of an economics professor who knew from experience what it felt like to be a foreign student in America, and Louise Sayen, active in the Princeton Friends of Foreign Students, were responsible for setting up the Center at 5 Ivy Lane.

Today they each give as much as 30 hours a week as volunteer co-directors of the Center, which has moved to more spacious and more centrally located quarters in Murray-Dodge Hall. The center operates as a meeting place, clearing house and point of reference for all foreigners to the University.

Available all summer long when many international visitors first arrive, the Center sponsors coffee and tea hours during the fall to make them feel more at home. Every Thursday during the college year, a hot lunch is offered for a nominal 50 cents, with Mrs. Sayen, Mrs. Chow and other volunteers doing the shopping, cooking and serving for 65 to 75 people of all nationalities. In the comfortable surroundings of Murray-Dodge, a Yugoslav interested in international economics can question a Japanese on the strength of the yen and the balance of trade, while a young Indonesian mother with a baby in a stroller finds sociability with others from her country.

Host Families and Tutoring. The center maintains files of useful information on community resources and shopping and travel opportunities. It arranges for tutoring sessions in English conversation with approximately 25 tutors, some of whom are retired people. There is also a host family program in which each new graduate and undergraduate student is assigned to a host family, who is asked to be in touch with the student at least once a month. Through the tutors, the host family program and Mrs. Chow herself, by her training, an informal counseling service is offered for help with minor problems.

To Mrs. Sayen the move to Murray-Dodge Hall is not only a great leap forward in terms of space and convenient location but is historically and philosophically appropriate as well. It was the late Bayard Dodge who founded the Princeton Friends of Foreign Students upon coming to Princeton from years of teaching at the University of Beirut. And it was Professor Dodge's family who gave Murray-Dodge Hall as the place on campus from which the social concerns of the University community could emanate.

Festival Draws Many. Last year, according to Mrs. Chow, between 300 and 500 people visited the International Festival. There will be food and drink and activities for that many to enjoy again this year, she says, adding that the Center would also welcome more community volunteers in its many programs. Either Mrs. Chow or Mrs. Sayen are in the office on the ground floor of Murray-Dodge every afternoon from 12 to 4, and may be reached by calling 452-5006.

IT TAKES TWO TO TANGO...

To waltz, to hustle, to dance away the hours at the Nassau Inn. Vince Iorio's music plays on Friday and Saturdays nights. The mood is beautiful. Anyone for castanets?

stration will be used to evaluate the effect of fares on attracting transit ridership. This program is one of several UMTA programs designed to evaluate fare elasticity.

MINI-COURSE PLANNED

At Historical Society. A four-session mini-course on American Primitive Arts will be offered this winter by the Historical Society. The first three talks will be held at the Unitarian Church from 10 to 11 with coffee served at 9:30. The fourth session will be held at Bainbridge House, Historical Society headquarters. The sessions are open to the public without charge.

The first talk, "Introduction to American Folk Painting," will be given by Mrs. Caren Sturges on Tuesday. Mrs. Sturges, a docent at the Princeton University Art Museum, received her masters degree in art history from Hunter College. She will focus on the works of primitive artists before 1850.

On Monday, February 27, Mrs. Ann Hughey will speak on "Regional Influences in American Country Furniture, 1760-1900." Mrs. Hughey, a lawyer and former Princeton resident, has assembled a collection of doll house miniatures and of country furniture. She will illustrate her talk with examples from her collection.

Tuesday, March 7, Mrs. Nina Starr will discuss "Roadside Folk Art Today." Mrs. Starr, whose photographs have been exhibited at the Newark Museum and the Museum of American Folk Art, is the author of an Art in America article "Signs of Living Folk Art." She will illustrate her talk with slides, some original art and artifacts including paintings by South Carolina artist Mini Evans.

Mrs. Louise Dunham, director of volunteers, explains that "These courses are designed to help our guides to be more knowledgeable and informative in responding to questions. And indeed we hope that some people who attend may become interested in what we have to offer and volunteer to help us at Bainbridge House."

OFFICERS ELECTED
By Civil Rights Commission. The Joint Commission on Civil Rights of the Borough and Township of Princeton recently held its annual reorganization meeting. John K Bleimaier of 32 Hawthorne Avenue, a Princeton attorney, was elected chairperson, and Max D. Blumenfeld of 39 Randall Road was reelected vice chairperson.

The Commission passed a special motion of appreciation to outgoing chairperson Martha Hartmann of 178 Moore Street in recognition of her service to the Commission over the last three years. Mrs. Hartmann continues to serve as a commissioner. The other commissioners are Beatrice Boyer, Alfred O. Campbell, Warren Huff, Thomas Lindenfeld, William Scheide, Jacqueline Swain and Priscilla Waring.

The director of the commission is Joan E. Hill, whose office is located at 4 Green Street. Ms. Hill also serves as president of the Human and Civil Rights Association of New Jersey. The commission is responsible for civil rights and related problems in Princeton, and meets every fourth Tuesday at 8 in Borough Hall.

Ms. Hill is available at her office from 9 until 5, and the Commission has a 24-hour hot line, 924-7138.

SAVE THE DINKY?

Freeholders Pledge $3,500. Mercer County's Freeholders have put $3,500 into their $55.8 million budget as a "moral commitment" to help keep the Dinky running.

Princeton Borough and Township and West Windsor have combined to contribute $3,000 to the Dinky Fund. The New Jersey Department of Transportation has given a citizen's "Save the Dinky" committee until June 30 of this year to find a program for making the shuttle train go.

The state now pays about $275,000 yearly to keep the Dinky running and is expected to make some contribution to a proposal developed by the Save the Dinky group.

Under those plans, the Dinky would be funded by parking proceeds from the West Windsor Parking Authority lot, parking at the Princeton end of the shuttle, leasing of the railroad station at the foot of University Place to the Victoria Station company for use as a restaurant (these plans are held up at the moment by a state-level legal technicality) and contributions by affected municipalities.

The "moral commitment" phrase came from Freeholder Barbara Sigmund, Princeton resident who is a member of "Save the Dinky." Freeholder John Watson joined her in sponsoring the county contribution and Freeholders James Hedden and Eugene Howard tossed in their "yes" votes. Paul Sollami and Joseph Tigue voted against including the subsidy in the budget.

The Mercer County Improvement Authority, which runs the buses will probably be designated as agent to manage the whole enterprise.

Barbara S. Cohen

Doctor of Laws degree. An authority in the research, evaluation and administration of academic and vocational testing programs, he holds a B.A. degree from the University of western Ontario and M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton University.

Richard W. Laity of 66 Herrontown Road, a Rutgers University chemistry professor, has been elected to the Council of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) effective June 11. Dr. Laity has been a member of the faculty of the State University for 13 years. He was formerly an assistant professor of chemistry at Princeton University.

He is a graduate of Haverford College from which he holds a master's degree and was awarded his doctorate from Iowa State State University.

Theresa M. Solomon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Eric Solomon of 84 Hardy Drive, and Kenneth Schoenberg, son of Franklyn Schoenberg of 241 Dodds Lane, are members of the staff of the weekly student newspaper at Ithaca College, Ithaca, N.Y.

Robert L. Bratzler of 4 Penlaw Road, Lawrenceville, assistant professor of chemical engineering at Princeton University, has been elected a full member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. He is a member of the Institute's Central Jersey section.

Six area residents have been named to the Dean's List at Bucknell University for the first semester of the current academic year. They are Heidi J. Baltzer, 536 Rosedale Road, a senior who had the added distinction of achieving a perfect 4.0 average; Edward Eleher, 396 Terhune Road, and Julie M. Kane, 20 Adams Drive, both sophomores;

Also Elizabeth A. Cook, Federal City Road, Pennington, a senior; Nancy J. Clark, 27 Springwood Drive, and Alexa J. Gilleran 865 Lawrenceville Road, both of Lawrenceville and both sophomores.

First Lieutenant Winfield S. Arnott, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Arnott of 88 Magnolia Lane, has arrived for duty at Clark A.B. Philippines. Lt. Arnott, an air weapons officer with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, previously served at Mangil-San, Republic of Korea.

He is a 1969 graduate of Princeton High School and received his commission and a B.S. degree in 1975 at the U.S. Air Force Academy, Colo.

Major General Howard A. Louderback of 33 Devan Drive, Lawrence Township, Commander of the 78th Division, U.S. Army Reserve, will be honored in retirement ceremonies Sunday at Fort Dix. The 78th Division consists of nearly all U.S. Army Reserve forces in the state and is known as the "Jersey Lightning" Division.

General Louderback, a World War II combat veteran, volunteered for the Army in 1941 and served first as a training non-commissioned officer. He graduated from Officers Candidate School in Fort Benning, Ga., in July, 1943 and was commissioned a second lieutenant. As a captain he commanded Company I, 39th Infantry Regiment, 9th Infantry Division in Germany.

He left active duty in 1947 and soon thereafter joined the 78th Infantry Division at Camp Kilmer where he served as battalion commander, brigade commander and as assistant division commander before becoming division commander in May, 1974. He is a graduate of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College.

General Louderback is vice president of the National State Bank in Trenton and is a member of the Trenton Rotary Club, the board of directors of St. Francis Hospital, N.J. World Trade Committee and the Mercer County Planning Board.

Four members of the West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional school system have had their mini-grant proposals accepted for funding by the New Jersey State Department of Education.

They are Mrs. Annie Scott, home economics teacher at the high school who was granted funding for her proposal "School Within A School."; Robert Staats and Mary Shea, also of the high school, for a proposal "Alternative Teaching Stations for the Individualization of Basic Math Skills."; and Mrs. Donna Devoll, resource teacher at Dutch Neck School, for her proposal "Self-Concept Development Via Behavior Modification with Hands-On Experiences."

Mark Poritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Poritz of 30 Overbrook Drive, placed fifth in the second annual Stockton State College Mathematical Contest in which some 35 New Jersey high schools participated.

His three team members who received certificates for outstanding individual performances were Robert Almgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Almgren Jr. of 83 Riverside Drive; Ed Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dong Young Lee of 22 Red Oak Row; and Maxim Dynin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dynin of 173 Von Neuman Drive.

Robert K. Zigler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zigler of Greensboro, N.C., formerly of Princeton Junction, was graduated magna cum laude from Rider College.

Others graduating recently were Barbara S. Cohen, 76 Herrontown Road, and Donald J. Coughlin of 240 Cold Soil Road, both of whom received a master's degree in guidance and counseling; and Stephen W. Hendershott, 60 Dodds Lane, a B.A. in mathematics, all of Princeton.

Also, from Lawrenceville, Clare T. Flesch, 18 Huron Way, who was awarded a B.A. in elementary education summa cum laude; Lydia F. Keephart, 100 Glenview Drive, M.A. in the program for administrators; Mary M. Krzyzkowski, 2751 Princeton Pike, M.A. in guidance and counseling; and Frederick Moses, B.S. in commerce having majored in accounting.

Also, Charles Parmele, Holling Hill Road, Skillman, B.A. in fine arts.

Named to the Dean's List at Bates College, Lewiston, Me., for their scholastic standing during the first semester are Peggy A. Carey '79, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Carey of 771 Princeton-Kingston Road; Elizabeth K. Fischer '78, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Fischer, 290 Snowden Lane; Sandra J. Lamb, '79, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Lamb, Province Line Road; and Jean Metzger, '79, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Metzger, 7 Monroe Court, South Brunswick.

The writer, Joyce Carol Oates, who has been appointed Writer in Residence at Princeton University for 1978-1979, has been elected to the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters. Currently professor of English at the University of Windsor, she has written ten books of short stories, eight novels, seven volumes of poetry, three volumes of essays and four plays. She is described as a writer absorbed in the interaction between individual Americans and the society in which they live.

A 1970 book called "Touching: The Human Significance of the Skin," by Ashley Montague of 321 Cherry Valley Road has been revised and republished by Harper & Row. Prof. Montague is described on the book jacket as an anthropologist who has been interested in bridging the gap between the social and biological sciences.

He is the author of some 45 books and numerous articles.

Prof. Montague maintains that touching is as basic a human need as breathing, eating and sleeping, and he marshals scientific evidence to prove that without satisfaction of this need, our survival is literally in doubt. Sensory deprivation in infancy will adversely affect physical and mental health, subsequent sexual behavior and perceptual development. For children and adults, close human contact makes for healthy human development, he writes.

Prof. Montague has added a chapter on "Touch and Age" to this edition in which he says that for the elderly the need for tactile stimulation is just as acute and so often remains unsatisfied.

Navy Fireman Theodore S. Wyckoff Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore S. Wyckoff Sr. of 30 1/2 Greenwood Ave., Hopewell, recently departed for an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea. He is a crew member aboard the combat store ship USS Concord, homeported in Norfolk, Va. While deployed, his ship will operate as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

Two Princeton residents will receive honorary degrees from Rider College at its 113th Commencement on Sunday.

Thomas S. Kuhn of 3 Evelyn Place, M. Taylor Pyne Professor of the History of Science at Princeton University, will receive an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters Degree. Holder of B.S., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University and author of several distinguished books, he is credited with playing a key role in the creation of the curriculum in history and philosophy of science at Princeton.

William W. Turnbull of 4690 Province Line Road, president of Educational Testing Service, will receive an honorary

YOUR SOUND AND PRICE

At Tech HiFi. Walking into Tech HiFi is like finding yourself in the cockpit of a 747 or the center of a computer room. Carpeted shelves all around the room are banked with stereo components -- speakers, amplifiers, receivers, tuners, pre-amps, reel to reel cassette players -- replete with knobs, dials, flashing lights.

This fantastic display is just a sampling of 70-100 manufacturers, whose units are known, tested and recommended by the store. From this galaxy of equipment it is possible to put together a sound system that is uniquely yours -- satisfying to your ear and to your pocketbook.

Russ Ertelt, manager at Tech HiFi, is an unflappable young man, who is knowledgeable about everything he sells and relates well to the constant stream of young people who come into the store. He estimates that 40-50 percent of his clientele are students; the other 50-60 percent are couples and families.

Selecting a Sound System. There are several determining factors in putting together a personalized sound system: the kind of music you like -- jazz, rock, popular, classical, the size and sound absorbing qualities of the room in which it will be placed, and the amount of money to be invested. A complete sound system can be assembled for as little as $200. Russ will select a range of speakers in your preferred price category and invite you to listen and compare the sounds.

SOUND CHOICE: Russ Ertelt, manager of Tech HiFi, invites you to come in and play any of the 70 brands of stereo components or systems and discover the sound you like best. Prices for a complete sound system begin at $200.

The listening area at Tech HiFi is a cozy spot warmed by shades of rust in a shag carpet and upholstered bent chrome chairs. Here, you can relax in comfort, while using Tech HiFi's unique method of instantaneous comparison. A switch box with remote control allows you to alternate between two sets of speakers at a time, until you find the sound you like best.

Electronics. The selection of a receiver or amplifier to power the speakers is the next consideration. Your choice depends on whether you are interested in having an AM-FM radio, or whether you are just interested in playing records through a stereo system. The receiver contains a tuner which receives radio signals and an amplifier, which operates the speakers. Only the amplifier would be needed for a record player.

Whichever you decide to buy -- receiver or amplifier -- the selection of a turntable will complete your sound system. An optional choice would be a tape deck for recording and play, or a cassette player for playing tapes only. Reel to reel tape decks run at higher speeds, providing a greater degree of high fidelity and allow editing by cutting and splicing.

Brand Names. Here are some brand names you can drop when you shop for your sound system. All are outstanding in performance, reliability and value. Speakers -- Infinity, J.B.L., Advent, Philips, Studio Design, Ohm, Micro-Acoustics, E.P.I., K.L.H. Electronics -- Pioneer, Technics, Nikko, Advent, Kardon, Fisher, S.A.E., Phase Linear. Turntables -- B.I.C., Philips, Garrard, Thorens, B.S.R., Technics.

Tech HiFi is justly proud of its Buyer Protection Plan. The following benefits are just 3 of the 14 policies that make up the plan. (1) If you are dissatisfied, for any reason, with the equipment you purchased at Tech HiFi, you can return it within 7 days for a 100 percent refund.

(2) Equipment purchased at Tech HiFi may be traded in within 90 days for 100 percent credit toward purchase price of new equipment. (3) Within 30 days of purchase, if you find any authorized dealer selling the same equipment, with the same services, for a lower price, Tech HiFi will gladly refund the difference.

Special Award. Further assurance of Tech HiFi's interest in its customers is given by "Audio Video International," a trade magazine for hi-fi and TV retailers. Presenting the Top Audio Retailer Award for 1977, it named Tech HiFi one of the top ten in the U.S. to receive a certificate which states: "In recognition of outstanding achievement in sales performance, customer service and professionalism in the conduct of business during the past year."

Tech HiFi is located at 1 Palmer Square, diagonally across from the post office. Store hours are 10-6, Monday, Friday, Saturday: 10-9 Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

CONTEMPORARY DESIGNS

For Home and Office. The fine old red brick building, in Hopewell, that was once a chocolate factory has been transformed into an elegant designer showroom by Classics, Ltd. Faded letters on the exterior still softly proclaim the past. Inside, new chocolate brown paint on the old brick walls, and chocolate candies in an apothecary jar continue its tradition.

The dark walls and soft, neutral carpeting give warmth to a vast area on the second floor of the building, where groups of furniture are arranged in vignettes displaying home or office furniture of contemporary or traditional design.

A carpeted sample room is colorfully arrayed with swatches of fabric on walls and shelves and houses a Design Service. Classics, Ltd. began as a show room for architects designing schools, offices, stores, institutions, but has now expanded to include residential interiors, as well. New homes can be totally furnished with their help, or one or more rooms in an older home given a new look. A complete design service is offered, which includes furniture and accessories, wall covering, lighting, carpeting, even plants and pictures.

One of the most innovative furniture arrangements for the office is called a "work station." Designed by Zapf for the Knoll Furniture Company, it is a modular system of wood or plastic that includes a desk, files, lighting, overhead storage, underneath storage, work surface and rackable or acoustical panels. In a large room with no stationary partitions, this arrangement provides a self-sufficient unit for flexible working space.

Office Furniture. For offices with fixed dimensions, there is a wide selection of separate desks, files, credenzas, chairs, tables, sofas for every comfort, convenience and esthetic need. Credenzas are low cabinets with hinged or sliding doors that have shelves and drawers for office supplies and information. Three examples are a wood credenza with a natural finish, a more formal cabinet with a marble top and a J.G. credenza in dark wood.

Desks on display included a double pedestal unit made of polished wood with plastic laminate top in matching GROUP THERAPY for home or office is provided by this elegant assemblage of contemporary furniture - a Dunbar sofa covered with a blue and gold geometric fabric designed by Jack Lenor Larsen, an Intrex coffee table and gold velvet club chairs by Tech. You will find this group and many other outstanding selections in the designer showroom at Classics Ltd.

Executive chairs are available in all sizes, shapes and fabrics. Some have high backs; some have low backs. Most are adjustable for height and swivel and tilt. A very handsome chair by Patricia is a high-backed design in padded camel vinyl on a chrome pedestal; the seat has a non-slip fabric insert to keep the executive firmly ensconced.

Also in the group is a low-backed swivel and tilt chair by Stephens, is covered with fabric in a houndstooth check of orange and yellow, bringing sunshine and cheer to the business scene.

An impressive director's table by Stendig has a black plastic laminate top supported by a chrome trestle base. A storage cube on rollers keeps office materials handy, but unseen. A flip top extension table, designed by Artona for R and B, would be a beautiful acquisition for dining room or office.

Horizontal filing is the newest method for organizing material in file folders. Low cabinets permit filing from side to side as opposed to the usual method of front to back. Secretaries can scoot their chairs up to the cabinet and do their filing comfortably seated. A seven tier cabinet for horizontal filing has a pull down work shelf where files can be reviewed.

Nancy Myers and Carol Royal are the spirited and energetic partners at Classics, Ltd., which is located at 53 Railroad Place in Hopewell. Store hours are 9:30-4:30, Monday through Friday; Saturday 10-1.

Car Towing Was a Real 'Snowjob.'

To the Editor of Town Topics:
It seems that emergencies can bring out the best in people, but unfortunately, they also can bring out the worst. Monday, February 6, the day of the blizzard, I parked my car at the Dinky Station as usual for my commute to New York. As the snowstorm hit, it was not possible to get back from New York City to retrieve the car. The police were notified of my plight, but they were indifferent to it. I was informed that the automobile would be towed - where, they did not know.

It was, in fact, towed by Perna to Route 206, Montgomery Township. It required $63 to retrieve; $50 for the tow charge, $5 per day storage and $3 tax, cash only on the barrelhead.

To add injury to insult, the car was severely damaged: 1) Dented gas tank; 2) Bent shock absorber; 3) Smashed rear light; 4) Smashed front light; 5) Dented trunk; 6) Dented bumper and back panels. The Perna organization maintains that the snow plow did the damage.

The police informed me that if the snow plow was responsible, it would have been reported. Take your choice for that 'Catch-22' - or if you prefer, a 'snowjob'.

I understand that there was an unusual situation, that the borough had a job to do, and that my car was in the way. I would just hope that for future emergencies, the Borough Council will insist upon a standard reasonable fee for towing and captive parking, so that an emergency situation cannot be taken advantage of.

Credit Where It's Due.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
All too often the services of a dedicated group of individuals who serve the public through the activities of the Consumer Bureau go unrecorded and unthanked. Recently we have had occasion to turn to them for help in obtaining satisfactory settlement of a claim. Never have we encountered a more concerned and tireless group who performed their tasks with greater tact, diplomacy and skill.

We hereby record our thanks and admiration for the unheralded way in which they strive for better relations between seller and consumer. We unhesitatingly urge others with similar difficulties to consult them as a fair-minded group dedicated to seeing that the interests of both seller and consumer are protected. The community is certainly the better for their efforts.

"Cold-Blooded Accuracy."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following is addressed to Donald Greenfield, TOWN TOPICS' music critic.

If you please -- a little criticism on your criticism of the Orpheus Ensemble's performance last week at McCarter Theatre.

Your review was very accurate, down to the last detail, but accuracy can have negative connotations in terms of art, as I'm sure you know. Granted there is a delicate line -- but your accuracy was inaccurately cold blooded.

Certainly the critic must keep pen and paper in hand during a concert. However, he must also (if he is to precisely judge the spirit of the thing) truly "subject" himself to the music. It's a risk, but it is also the duty of an honest critic. He must integrate the necessity for objectivity with the duty of subjectivity.

In my opinion, the spirit of the ensemble was exceptional. The music was beautiful. Those "fuzzy notes," that exceptionally "cantankerous oboe" have almost no relevance to this fact. And, in your review, there was nothing to indicate the novelty of such a performance.

Neighborliness at PCV

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The great snow of January 20 had its good side too. At noon on that Friday I became aware that the men of Tupelo Row and Staff Members of Princeton Community Village where I live were shovelling out all the cars and parking them elsewhere until an earthmover could come in to plow. After this they patiently returned the cars to their own parking spaces again, and they did it with such a spirit of good will that it was a joy to watch. Late that afternoon I went up to another lot to bring my own car down from where I'd parked it on Thursday night. A man I did not know helped shovel me out and drove the car around to where I could handle it.

The following Monday my TV began smoking. I called the Fire Department and within minutes a policeman and several firemen arrived. When I asked how they got there so fast, they said, "We're your neighbors."

Several days later my car would not start, and my next door neighbor started it for me and explained how I should do it. I know the name of my immediate neighbor. The other people I don't know. I am thankful to be living in a place like Princeton Community Village at any time, but especially in an emergency.

Flat Ordinance Evaluated.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is a copy of a letter I have sent to the Regional Planning Board and the Township Committee:

I have been attending all of the meetings of the Township Committee, Planning Board and the first meeting of Z.A.B.C. last week because of my interest as a Princeton resident in the Flat Ordinance and its impact on the future of the Princeton community. I have come away from these meetings with the impression that some members of these committees believe that the flats proposed for the Constitution Hill development will satisfy a pressing need of upper income retired people in the Princeton area. I would like to address myself to this point because I think it involves a basic misconception which should be cleared up prior to final action on amendments to the Flat Ordinance.

Since my wife and I fall into the category of persons owning a large house (5 bedrooms) whose children have grown up and moved away. I would like to say what I feel people like ourselves are really looking for. They presently own a large house and might be interested in finding a much smaller dwelling of two to three bedrooms built in an attractive area, preferably with open spaces, from which they can come and go (including traveling) without worrying about garbage removal, maintenance and landscaping upkeep.

The 8 flats in the Constitution Hill proposal for the converted mansion might well meet this criteria. However, the remainder of the Constitution Hill proposal, in my opinion, will not. It calls for 10 large 5-bedroom houses and 26 two-family 5-bedroom dwellings containing flats of two bedrooms to be rented. These house-flats will be expensive, costing over $200,000 for the 3,000 sq. ft. contained. It should be clearly noted that the flats contained cannot be bought and can only be rented.

It is most unlikely that people such as ourselves would want to sell their present 5-bedroom house to buy another 5-bedroom dwelling with a 2-bedroom flat contained. It should be clearly noted that the flats contained cannot be bought and can only be rented.

It is most unlikely that people such as ourselves would want to sell their present 5-bedroom house to buy another 5-bedroom dwelling with a 2-bedroom flat that they would have to rent when they could put a flat in their present house under the present law. Furthermore, there are many restrictions to owner occupancy associated with owning a house with a rentable flat. To make any economic sense at all (particularly given the high cost of the house with the flat), the flat would have to rent for $800-$1,000 per month and this would undoubtedly be very difficult to do.

It is questionable that even upper income people would want to spend up to $12,000 rent a year without obtaining any equity in the property. The taxes on the proposed house-flat will certainly be equal to those levied on their present homes, so no savings will accrue there. If the owner dies, there may be considerable problems in settling his estate, prohibiting the rental or sale of the entire unit until the estate is settled which could cause concern to those people renting the flat.

The important point is that most upper income retired people are not looking for a rental of a flat but, rather, for an expensive small two or three bedroom house they can buy. Thus, in my opinion, the proposed Constitution Hill house-flats do not in any way solve the needs of upper income retired people for appropriate housing but merely increase the allowable density (from 33 to 70 dwellings) in order to maximize profits for the developer.

Preventing the use of flats for this and other developments will not knock out the proposed Constitution Hill project. Perry Morgan already has prepared and exhibited to me and others some alternative plans for the development of this property. There are potentially a number of others that could still provide for the 8 flats in the converted mansion and offer two and three bedroom single-family dwellings that could be clustered with the same amount of open space which would serve the needs of the upper income retired people.

These dwellings could be called town houses, duplexes, individual houses or whatever and could be built as condominiums that would take care of the desire for joint maintenance, lawn care, etc. In addition, a variance could be applied for, in connection with the preservation of the old mansion, to give the proposed project a higher density than the present 33 dwellings, but not the extremely high density of 70 dwellings which has been proposed. I feel certain that the present objections of most of the immediate neighbors to the current proposal, which would double the density and create immense traffic problems, would be greatly reduced with respect to such a variance.

Thus, I urge all of you on the Township Committee and Planning Board to address your attention to the Flat Ordinance without being concerned that a denial of flats would deny to the upper income people the housing which they need. The Flat Law should be amended to protect the available large land holdings left in the Township from exploitation by developers seeking windfall profits. After this has been done, the Zoning Board of Adjustment can then address itself to the alternate proposals for the development of Constitution Hill which would provide for small single-family clustered homes at somewhat higher density without flats.

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

(The following information was researched and written by members of the Regional Schools PTO Council, and the opinions expressed are not those of TOWN TOPICS.)

PRACTICE MAKES perfect is an old, time-worn adage, it's also a theme to remember if you're a JW House 10 student. Their Wednesday mornings are being spent as student aids - teachers in the PRS elementary schools. John Crusier, Andy Schaefer and Lisa Bess are at CP; Peter Kemp at LB; Julie Casciola, Adam Schaeffer, Joe O'Grady and Brad Bovers at RS; Mary Clark and Suzette Cumberbatch work at JP. Other placings are in progress. The tasks performed are diverse: one-to-one tutoring with a student who needs help, correcting of papers or workbooks, playground assistance or any of a multitude of "little jobs" that can clog a teacher's schedule. Students keep records of the activities in which they play a part and later write weekly reports for Mrs. Trotter, their supervisor.

"Learning by doing" might best sum up the experience. There's also accepting responsibility, sharing concern and developing pride in one's work.

TODAY IS the opening day for Operation Bookswap at CP. Students can bring in books that are either outgrown or have been read to a frazzle, leave them in the book collection center, and then select up to three "previously owned" volumes to take home. It's a recycling for reading volume sponsored by the CP PTO; swap days are only February 22 and 23.

"SIX WOMEN OF COURAGE", a one-woman show featuring actress Janie Stockhammer, is being presented tomorrow at a JW student assembly. Ms. Stockhammer's background includes broad experience as an actress in community and children's theater, writing and directing children's plays and elementary school teaching.

The show is based on the lives of prominent American women; it involves six costume and character changes. Included will be Pocahontas, the Indian girl who helped the first settlers; Dobra Samson, a member of the Revolutionary Army's front line; Elizabeth Blackwell, the first female medical school graduate; Annie Oakley of Western fame; Annie Sullivan, the teacher of Helen Keller, and Amelia Earhart, twentieth century aviatrix. The program, sponsored by the Witherspoon PTO, will conclude with a question and answer period for students.

CHINESE NEW YEAR was celebrated by the second and third graders at RS with the help of guest artist Eve Kaplan, a PTO invited speaker. Mrs. Kaplan not only spoke but also danced, sang and played games with the children to illustrate winter customs from Japan and China. Learning can be fun and even profitable as some of the students, adopting a Chinese custom, look home a red envelope to place under their pillow. Red symbolizes good luck, and hopefully in the morning there should be money in the envelope.

NUMBER, PLEASE. Telephoning PRS has changed several times over the past decade, there's another change in store which will bring the schools back to the central switchboard system. No longer will parents have to light through the telephone directory to find the school or person - and the appropriate number. Soon the call will go through by dialing 924-5600, Alice Satterfield's cheery voice will greet you and she'll channel the calls to their destination. Only the transportation - facilities office, which often works with trips, late schedules and private school busing, will retain its individuality with the old number, 924-9070. If you plan to call after four o'clock on school days, the separate listing listing below should be of some help; clip it and add it to your 1978 phone book (this will update Ma Bell's listings.)

A final note: the switchover to the new system has not yet occurred but the recent delivery of area phone directories lists PRS under the new numbers. The change is anticipated for late April since equipment changes and training sessions won't be complete until then. In the meantime calls to schools and administrative offices will take the "thumb through the old directory."

NOVELIST TO SPEAK
At Public Library. Richard Ford of 60 Jefferson Road will be the next speaker in the "Writers Talking" series at Princeton Public Library on March 23 at 8.

Mr. Ford's novel, "A Piece of My Heart," was described in Newsweek as "the beginning of a career that could turn out to be extraordinary" by "a writer of strong talent." He has also written short stories published in Esquire and Paris Review. Before devoting full time to writing, he taught at the University of Michigan, the University of California and Goddard College. Mr. Ford will discuss the writing of fiction, with illustrations from his forthcoming novel.

OFFICES PLANNED

At 19 Vandeventer. Never out of the news for long, the historic yellow house at the corner of Vandeventer and Park is back in once again. This time, James S. Regan, who wants to buy the 19 Vandeventer property from Claudette Rubin, will go before the Use Variance Review Committee of the Planning Board asking a favorable recommendation for a use variance.

He would like to convert the house to offices for an investment firm. Offices are not allowed in this Residential-4 district of the Borough.

His request will be considered by a four-member Planning Board committee consisting of Jerome Rose, Karl Light, Wendy Benchley and William H. Walker. Their opinion will be forwarded to the Borough Zoning Board, which has Mr. Regan on its March agenda.

RCA SCIENTISTS CITED
By NASA. Dr. Max Feryszka of 8 Sycamore Lane, Skillman, a staff scientist at RCA Astro - Electronics, has been awarded NASA's public service medal for his major contribution to the Mars Viking Lander Program.

NASA cited Dr. Feryszka for "his outstanding contribution to the development and use of the Viking Lander radio communications system." He accepted his award at a Project Viking Awards ceremony held recently in Denver, Colo.

NASA Technical Brief Awards were presented to Marvin Kravitz of 33 Windsor Drive, Princeton Junction, and Larry A. Freedman of East Brunswick for development of a TV Cursor-Special Effects Generator. Mr. Freedman and Mr. Kravitz are members of the space shuttle TV technical staff at RCA Astro - Electronics.

They developed the special effects generator while performing a study for NASA on the space shuttle television system. It was proposed as an alignment aid, enabling astronaut pilots to position, align, install and remove payloads from the shuttle cargo bay.

FACE LIFT COMPLETE
At First National Bank. The First National Bank of Princeton has expanded its main office at 90 Nassau Street by adding a walk-up window for customer convenience and refurbishing the building's entrance lobby and facade.

New full-height glass windows and entry doors have lightened the interior and added needed space. Gordon Griffin, Hillier Group architect for the project says, "The frameless glass was carefully fitted into the stone arches to enhance the elegance of the existing neoclassical architecture."

Large photo panels of early bank pictures taken in 1908 have been hung in the outer lobby. There will also be changing photo murals by Robert Denby of Princeton scenes corresponding to the seasons. The photos will be illuminated by the new interior track lighting.

A limestone colored paint on the exterior completed the face lift.

Robert Geddes

ARCHITECT NAMED
To Design Committee. Robert Geddes, architect, has been appointed to the American Institute of Architects' national Committee on Design. Mr. Geddes, a principal in the architectural firm of Geddes Brecher Qualls Cunningham, is Dean of Princeton University's School of Architecture and Urban Planning.

The national Design Committee is a small group of architects who are chosen because of their distinguishing contributions in the field of design. Its purpose is "to encourage excellence in architectural design and to promote awareness of the importance of design in both architecture and the environment. It acts as the conscience of the Institute in demanding and recognizing design excellence."

The Geddes firm currently is responsible for the design of the new town square development at Princeton Junction railroad station; Princeton Community Housing's proposed housing for the elderly; the renovations and additions to Trinity Church; the Architects Housing Company elderly housing in Trenton; and major planning and development activity at Liberty State Park in Jersey City.

PROFESSOR TO SPEAK

At Chamber Lunch. Dr. William Beeners, professor of speech at Princeton Theological Seminary, will talk about body language at the March 1 meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held in the Nassau Inn.

Body language is defined as unconscious communication through facial expressions and body movements, or non-verbal messages. Dr. Beeners is an ordained minister, a psychologist - dramatist and a master carpenter. As a lecturer, he has been touring the country for more than ten years talking to people in business and educational institutions about how convictions and values are revealed through tone and actions.

ROUNDTABLE SET

By Barish Agency. Mort Barish Associates will hold their fourth roundtable for advertising and marketing professionals on Tuesday, April 11, at the Nassau Inn. Registration is now open for the one-day course.

Four ways of increasing sales and reducing costs are on the agenda. They include positioning - how to motivate people to select your product instead of a competitor's - which will be discussed by Mort Barish, president; how to save 20 to 40 percent when buying printing, by Arnold Cagan, vice president of Revere Press in Philadelphia; planning promotions to save time and cut costs, by Harvey

OBITUARIES

Nils E. Lindenblad, 82, a former Princeton resident (44 Shadybrook Lane) and researcher for RCA Laboratories, died of cancer February 18 in St. Louis, Mo.

A pioneer in transoceanic radio communications in the 1920's and 1930's, Mr. Lindenblad joined the RCA Corporation in 1920 at the company's transmitting station at Rocky Point, L.I. He transferred to RCA Laboratories in Princeton in 1950, and retired in 1960.

Mr. Lindenblad was credited with more than 300 patents. He helped to develop the first wide-band television antenna placed on top of New York's Empire State Building in 1938. He was awarded the 1958 David Sarnoff Outstanding Achievement Award, RCA's highest technical honor, "for his invention and pioneering development of many important electronic devices and for his research on thermoelectric cooling apparatus."

A founder of the Calvary Baptist Church in Princeton, Mr. Lindenblad was also very active in church affairs in Port Jefferson, L.I., and in St. Louis.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie; two sons, Gordon of Chesterfield, Mo., and Irving, of Arlington, Va.; and five grandchildren.

The service was held in St. Louis. The family suggests that in lieu of flowers, friends may send contributions to the Bethany Baptist Church in Chesterfield, Mo.

Mrs. Frances Glembocki of Route 13, Skillman, died February 18 in Princeton Medical Center. Mrs. Glembocki was born in Poland and lived in this area for 52 years. She was a member of the Montgomery Township Senior Citizens and St. Alphonsus Church in Hopewell.

Surviving are her husband, Frank Glembocki; a son, Edward F. Glembocki of Harborton; two daughters, Mrs. Regina Herrman of Princeton and Mrs. Bertha Rostas of Lawrenceville; a brother, Alexander Zaremba of Warsaw, Poland; and five grandchildren.

Mass of the Resurrection was held in St. Alphonsus Church with burial in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pineda, 59, of 123 Merline Avenue, Lawrenceville, died February 16 in Helene Fuld Medical Center. Mrs. Pineda was born in Kelayres, Pa., and had lived in Lawrenceville for the past 17 years.

She is survived by her husband, Jose Pineda; a daughter, Mrs. Jennie Navarro of Trenton; four sons, Jerry Festa of Hamilton Township, Joseph Festa of Somerville, Maurice Festa of Trenton, and Gary Pineda at home; a sister, Mrs. Mary Boeck of McAdoo, Pa.; two brothers, John Luchetta of Hazelton, Pa., and James Luchetta of Kelayres, Pa. and nine grandchildren.

Nils P. Lindenblad

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in St. Ann's Catholic Church, Lawrenceville, with burial in Ewing Cemetery.

Pamela F. Ball, 13, of 101 Winant Road, died February 14 in Albert Einstein Hospital in the Bronx, N.Y. She was the daughter of Samuel and Vida Ball.

Born in New York City, Miss Ball had lived in Princeton since 1972. She was a sixth grade pupil at John Witherpoon Middle School.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by a sister, Catherine Ball, and two brothers, John and David Ball, all at home; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mae Shying, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Sarine Young, both of Sydney, Australia.

The service was held at the Unitarian Church, and burial was private. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Contributions may be made to the National Kidney Foundation.

Mrs. Emma S. Kief, 83, of 253 Mercer Road, died February 14 at her home.

Born in East Williamsburg, N.Y., Mrs. Kief had lived in Princeton for 22 years. She had been secretary to the late John P. Mitchell, mayor of New York, and was later a vice president of a New York engineering firm. She was a life member of the YWCA.

Wife of the late Robert F. Kief, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Augusta McGowan of Trenton and Mrs. Mary Carter of Fort Myers, Fla.

Miss Theresa H. Stoveken, 88, of Route 206, Belle Mead, died February 16 at her home.

Born in Jersey City, Miss Stoveken had lived in Belle Mead for 60 years. She operated an antique business at her home and was a member of the Mary Mother of God Church in Flagtown.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Emma V. Heller of Belle Mead.

Mass was celebrated in the Mary Mother of God Church with burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Hillsborough Township.

L. Russell Cook, 66, of North Palm Beach, Fla., a former resident of Princeton, died February 6 in George Ford Hospital in Jupiter, Fla. Until his recent semi-retirement, he served as president of the chocolate confection division of W.R. Grace & Co and was a consultant to the division at the time of his death.

A graduate of Penn State University, Mr. Cook made many contributions to the chocolate and cocoa industry. He developed the first non-settling chocolate milk and was a recognized historian, chemist and technologist in the field. He was the winner of the Stroud Jordan Award for his contributions to the chocolate industry.

Mr. Cook was a vice-president of W.A. Cleary Co of New Brunswick and the Wilbur Siehard Chocolate Company in Littitz, Pa., as well as president of Ambrosia Chocolate Company. He was a director of the West Side Bank in Milwaukee, Wis.

Surviving are his wife, the former Verna Lee Mather; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Lynn Jurgens of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Andrea Papillon of Reston, Va.; a son, George Cook of Voorheesville, N.Y.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Bonnie L. Wernys of Brookfield, Wis.; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Searlett of New York City; a brother, Earl Cook of Stockholm, N.J.; and seven grandchildren.

The service was held in Milwaukee, and burial will be in Princeton Cemetery at the convenience of the family. Memorial contributions may be made to George Ford Hospital, Jupiter, Fla., 33458.

Mrs. Edith J. Burkhalter, 86, of Reed Road, Pennington, died February 20 at her home.

Mrs. Burkhalter was born in Howlesburg, W. Va., and lived in Pennington for 56 years. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Pennington and the WSCS of the Church and of the Pennington Grange No. 64.

Wife of the late Albert Burkhalter, she is survived by three sons, Louis of Trenton, Earl and Milton Burkhalter, both of Pennington; two daughters, Mrs. Dora Wilner and Mrs. Elsie Knorr, both of Pennington; 13 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren and eight great-great-grandchildren.

The service will be held Thursday at 11 in the First United Methodist Church, 60 South Main Street, Pennington, with the Rev. David N. Cousins, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Colonial Memorial Park. Contributions may be made to the Memorial Fund of the First United Methodist Church of Pennington.

Barish, vice president; and how to get the best from your ad agency, also by Mort Barish.

The roundtables are forums where advertising, marketing and sales professionals can meet and exchange ideas. According to Mort Barish, this roundtable will emphasize that conventional approaches to advertising are not producing results. "Today a company must develop positioning strategies if it is to gain attention and carve out a bigger share of the market," he says.

The day-long session will begin at 9 and continue to 5:15. The registration fee is $75 per person and will include a steak and lobster lunch. Applications will be accepted by the agency, 924-7500, until a quota of 100 is reached.

FINAL SATURDAY

PDS Hopes to Be There. The finals of the Prep A and B division basketball championship will be played Saturday, and if all goes well this Wednesday, Princeton Day will be there hoping to capture its fifth consecutive title.

It will be more of a battle than anyone thought. First, the Panthers might get by Wardlaw, which upset Pennington Prep 72-69 in overtime. This semi-final round will be played in the Lawrenceville gym this Wednesday at 3:30.

PDS demolished Wardlaw when the two had their only meeting in January, but it should be a closer game this time around. The Pennington game indicates Wardlaw is playing better basketball.

If PDS reaches the finals, it is almost assured of meeting Rutgers Prep, which handed the Blue and White its 11th loss last Wednesday, 71-68. It has made the tournament much more of a challenge for Princeton Day, but coach Alan Taback feels sure his players can rise to the occasion.

The Panthers can be expected to employ a more deliberate style than they did the first time against Rutgers Prep. The fast tempo of last Wednesday's contest was orchestrated by the winners, and did not allow PDS time to set up defense.

Still, it managed to hold on to a slim lead into the third period, when Rutgers Prep started hitting on some 20-foot bombs. The teams battled down to the final 2 and a half minutes when the home team went in front to stay. PDS is now 9-11, and two tournament victories would enable it to end the season at .500.

PHS BOWS AGAIN, 75-65
NJISAA Action Monday. Defeated Tuesday by visiting Hopewell Valley, 75-65, the Princeton High School basketball team will see action in the first round of the annual NJISAA State Tournament Monday.

The Little Tigers will play North Plainfield there at 7:30. Of the 19 teams competing in Group 2, North Plainfield is ranked 16th and PHS 17th. The PHS girls basketball will play the same evening at 7 against Metuchen High School at Metuchen.

Should PHS defeat North Plainfield, it will oppose number one ranked Asbury Park at Asbury Park at 7:30 next Wednesday, March 1. Should the PHS girls also prevail in their first test, their second round opponent will be St. Anthony at St. Anthony at 7 also on the first.

Before that, however, PHS will play host to MKSD Thursday afternoon at 3:45 in its final home game and play Steinert Friday evening at Steinert.

Although PHS placed four men in double figures against Hopewell, it had no one to match the Bulldog's high scoring forward Chris Kelly. The 6-3 Kelly poured in 10 points each in the first and third periods and added 13 more in the final round to finish with a season-high 37 points.

For the second game in a row (see box) PHS was led by jayvee coach Ed Beacham. Despite Kelly, the Little Tigers were very much in the game, trailing 61-58, when referee Harold Hall called a technical on Beacham with 4:47 left. Kelly sank both free throws as Hopewell went on to score 10 more points from the free throw line.

The game was marred by 53 fouls called by Hall and George Kolch, 31 on PHS. "Now I see why Marvin gets upset," commented Beacham after the game.

Whither Marv Trotman?

In a repeated "no comment" that was a comment, PHS athletic director Norman Van Arsdalen refused to confirm or deny Tuesday whether Marvin Trotman is still coach of the Princeton High School basketball team.

Jayvee coach Ed Beacham was told by Van Arsdalen an hour before the start of Tuesday's game with Hopewell Valley that Trotman would not be coaching the team.

Trotman, who did not lead the Little Tigers in their previous outing against Lawrence, because he was suffering from the flu, was in school Tuesday. He had reportedly been talking with Van Arsdalen in a school office an hour before the game.

Since taking over from Larry Ivan midway in the 1971-72 season, Trotman had guided the Little Tigers to a winning season each winter with the exception of the present year.

In Princeton

EVENSONG PLANNED
By Episcopalians. The Lenten School Princeton's two Episcopal Churches, the Episcopal ministry at the University and Trinity Counseling Service, has planned a Festival Choral Evensong Sunday at 8 in Princeton University Chapel. The theme of the service is "God at the Center."

The Right Rev. G.P. Mellick Belshaw, Suffragan Bishop of New Jersey and a Princeton resident, will preside. The Rev. C. FitzSimons Allison, rector of Grace Episcopal Church in New York City, will give the sermon. Choirs from Trinity Church and All Saints' Church will sing.

The service is planned as an opportunity for Episcopalians to worship together and to hear a man who is described as "one of the (Episcopal) Church's finest teachers and preachers." Dr. Allison has taught church history at Catholic University and a number of seminaries before becoming rector of Grace Church. He earned his doctorate at Oxford, serves on the board of "The Living Church," the Episcopal Radio/TV Foundation, the general board of Examining Chaplains, and is a delegate to the Consultation on Church Union.

MYSTICISM IS TOPIC
Of Aquinas Series. A lecture series on prayer and mysticism has been planned by the Aquinas Institute. The series will be held in Murray-Dodge Hall, beginning Wednesday at 7:30 and on successive Wednesdays through March 15.

Dr. Dorris Donnelly, a member of the Princeton Theological Seminary faculty, will begin the series, speaking on "The Prayer of the Heart: Hesychasm." (Hesychasm refers to meditative mysticism, specifically to that espoused by an Eastern Orthodox ascetic sect of mystics originating among the monks of Mount Athos in the 14th century who practiced a quiet method of contemplation to attain a beatific vision or similar mystical experience).

George T. Harris of 62 Hodge Road, a journalist who has been an editor at Time, Look, Psychology Today and New York magazines, will survey "The Politics of Mysticism from Carlos Castaneda to Anita Bryant" on March 1. Father John Haughey, S.J., author of "The Conspiracy of God" and liaison with the Roman Catholic American hierarchy on the Charismatic Renewal, will continue the series on March 8 with an address on "Charismatic Prayer."

Douglas V. Steere, author, teacher and authority on Quaker spirituality, will conclude the series March 15 by leading a discussion on "The Quaker Way." The series is open to all at no charge.

RULLETIN NOTES
Church Women will sponsor World Day of Prayer services on Friday, March 3, at 11 at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, Nassau Street and Cedar Lane. The guest speaker will be Arlo Duba, Dean of Admissions at Princeton Theological Seminary. Participants may bring a bag lunch; dessert; beverage and babysitting will be provided.

The Sisterhood of Congregation Beth Chaim, a Reform Congregation in West Windsor Township, will hold its 4th annual rummage sale of "used but not abused" clothing this week. The sale

Dannenhauer Reception

A farewell reception for the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer will be held Saturday between 1 and 3 at Christ Congregation, Walnut Lane and Houghton Road.

All their friends in the community are invited to stop by and bid them farewell. Mr. Dannenhauer has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Madison Avenue Baptist Church in New York City.

will begin on Monday and run through Friday, March 3, from 9:30 to 3 each day. It will be held in the First Presbyterian Church of Hightstown, North Main Street, Hightstown.

A large quantity of clean, useable clothing will be sold at reasonable prices in a wide assortment for children and adults. Additional donations may be dropped off at the home of Mrs. Marsha Skoller, chairwoman, 4 Cornwall Drive, West Windsor, 448-1498, and receipts for tax deductions will be available. Mrs. Peggy Dickson is president of the Sisterhood.

The Unitarian Church of Princeton, Cherry Hill and State Roads, will hold a budget kick-off celebration and dinner this Saturday. Church members and friends are invited to celebrate the growth and progress the church has made this year and to make a commitment to keeping the church moving ahead.

In the continuing Lenten series at Nassau Presbyterian Church on "Seven Whom God Called: From Egypt to Easter," Dr. Wallace Alston will speak this Thursday evening at 7:30 on "The Layman Who Did What He Could" (Nehemiah). The service will be held in the Niles Chapel.

Family services will be led by Rabbi Melvin J. Glatt at The Jewish Center, Friday at 8:15. On Saturday morning, services will begin at 10, at which time Richard Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Paul, will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah.

The Men's Club of The Jewish Center will hold a joint meeting held in cooperation with the Women's Division, B'nai B'rith Women and Hadassah on Sunday evening at 8. The topic will be the volatile, fast-changing Middle East. Lord Cavadan, former British Representative to U.N. and draftsman of Resolution 242; L. Carl Brown, professor of Near East Studies, Princeton University; and Michael Curtis, professor of Political Science, Rutgers University, will outline their ideas as to "What Constitutes a Just Middle East Peace" and discuss the merits of some of the contrasting positions. A question period will follow.

VISUAL SCREENING SET
For Pre-Schoolers in Montgomery. A Preschool Vision Screening Program will be held in Montgomery Township on Wednesday, March 1, at Burnt Hill Road School from 9 to 11 and from 1 to 3. It will be sponsored by the PTSA in conjunction with the Preschool Vision Screening Program of the New Jersey State Commission for the Blind.

Its purpose is to discover preschool children who may have amblyopia, "lazy eye," or other defects in eyesight and to alert their parents to the need for immediate professional eye examination. If these defects are not corrected during the preschool years, they may affect the child's ability to learn in school or may result in a permanently weak eye.

Since the visual process is usually fully developed by age 6, preschool detection is vital so that early treatment can be started to give the best possible correction.

Parents in Montgomery Township are urged to bring their preschool children, ages 3½ to 5, to the screening. Children who do not pass will be referred to their eye specialists for a complete examination.

TWO COURSES PLANNED

By Montgomery Squad. Montgomery Township First Aid Squad is offering an advanced first aid training course, beginning February 28 at 7. The free course will be given by qualified Red Cross instructors at the Squad House, Harlingen Road and Route 206, Montgomery Township. Satisfactory completion of the program assures credentials acceptable by any first aid squad in New Jersey.

In addition, a free refresher course will start on March 1 at 7 at the Squad House for members of first aid squads whose cards have expired. Classes for both programs will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evening through April. For additional information call (201)359-5506.

PRINCETON'S NEWEST INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY: WITH A NASSAU STREET LOCATION. A house and a half - house with a large parking garage in the rear with all kinds of possibilities. The duplex in the right photograph has a living room, dining room, kitchen and three bedrooms on each side and might make a good professional's office. The large half house on Nassau might be used in the same way. But the huge parking garage is a builder's project with numerous potential uses. In a multiple family zone, so call us today and meet with a Firestone agent to discuss the potential. $265,000

AUTHENTIC EARLY AMERICAN SALTBOX JUST NORTH OF PRINCETON. A charming Early American colonial saltbox in a neat country setting. Inside, there will be a formal entry foyer, a spacious living room, a separate formal dining room, a sparkling modern kitchen with eat-in area, and a huge family room with a wall to wall fireplace for winter evenings. Upstairs will be four bedrooms and two full baths. Authentic, detailed and superb! $110,000

COME WITH US TO THE LAWRENCE WOODS AND WE'LL SHOW YOU A HOME WITH EVERYTHING YOU'VE ALWAYS DREAMED OF A marvelous house in a private wooded setting yet actually in a friendly neighborhood within walking distance of the grammar school. You won't believe the spaciousness and tasteful decor that has been built into this fine colonial. Inside, you'll find a grey slate entrance foyer, a formal living room with wall tapestry, an elegant dining room, an extra large ultra modern kitchen with a breakfast area with view, a French country Tudor beamed family room with hearth, custom built-in cabinets and lighting, and a pantry, laundry, and powder room with easy access from the kitchen. Upstairs, is a huge master bedroom suite spanning two rooms with a master bath, dressing area, and plenty of closet space. Three additional family bedrooms include at present a den and a very special nursery that looks like it came out of a story book. Behind this home is one of the prettiest, well-landscaped heated pools that we've seen in the area. If you're looking for the complete home and wonder how long it will last on the market, don't. Just call your Firestone agent a.s.a.p. and we'll arrange to show it to you before the open house. $129,500

THIS CHARMING IN-TOWN COLONIAL IN A VILLAGE NEARBY HAS JUST COME ON THE MARKET. Inside, you'll find a spacious living room, a dining room with corner china cabinet, an eat-in kitchen with knotty pine cabinets and wainscoting, four comfortable bedrooms, and out back a 2 story colonial garage/barn combination for whatever pleases you. Call us today and we can show it to you. $69,500

SLATE ROOF VICTORIAN ON FIVE BEAUTIFUL ACRES. If you're interested in having your own horses and a neat home with six bedrooms, a huge living room and dining room, and a country kitchen and den done in a rustic knotty pine, call us today. The setting is superb. $97,000

246 NASSAU STREET • PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

Some people used to call us the best realty company in town. Now they can call us the best in the country.

The best, if we do say so ourselves, just got enormously better. If you're planning to buy or sell a home, now we can help you do it faster and simpler than any broker with any other real estate network in America. Quite simply, no one else can match what an independent ERA broker like us can now offer.

HOME WARRANTIES

Now most homes we sell are covered by ERA's exclusive Home Sellers and Home Buyers Protection. ERA's home warranties cover the cost of repair or replacement of most major working home components* while the home is being sold and for a full year after the sale.

NATIONAL EXPOSURE

Now we can show your home both locally and nationally through ERA's electronic photo-data network of hundreds of ERA brokers across the country. Since up to 40% of all homes are bought by out-of-towners, that usually means a faster sale, and at a better price.

*Modest applicable deductible

ERA—We're the real estate brokers with new ideas that make buying or selling simple and fast.

A Home for Everyone

LOVELY TO LOOK AT - A view of striking park land green acres and the Millstone River winding its way through rolling hills is afforded by the huge picture windows in the cathedral ceiled 33 ft. living room of our newest West Windsor listing. This custom built & meticulously maintained ranch has 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, an excellent kitchen, fireplace, basement and 2 car garage and is perfect for busy young professionals or for the elder couple who want a home with space, elegance & character $108,000

WOULD YOU BELIEVE? A lovely lot with mature landscaping, an elegant living room with an open feeling, a large dining ell and a modern eat-in kitchen. There are 3 bedrooms and a bath on the same floor and on the ground level with sliding glass doors leading to the patio, is a spacious family room, a half bath, a study or fourth bedroom, a laundry room, a storage room, and a one car garage. All this adds up to easy living. And, what's more, the owner will help finance. $48,000

LUV APPLE RED is the color of the new aluminum siding of this charming home. Young couples will appreciate the roominess of this older home with its living room, family room, 3 bedrooms, tree yard and 2 car barn-type garage at only $39,500

COME HOME to an elegant contemporary on 1 1/2 wooded acres (Princeton RD #1). Can you imagine 2,700 sq. ft. of living space, 4 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, a fireplace in the family room, 2 car garage, mud room, basement, great kitchen, living room and dining room - to be built for early summer occupancy $112,000

A HONEY OF A HOUSE - Come see for yourself 3 nice spacious bedrooms, enormous modern kitchen, full basement, patio, nicely landscaped with a maintenance-free exterior $43,900

IF YOU LIKE COUNTRY LIVING this pretty home is perfect for you with its 4 bedrooms, fully equipped kitchen, remodeled bath and spacious living room that opens onto a large heated porch. Priced right at $37,900

STRATEGY dictates a higher use for this unusual property near the new Mercer County College and park. There is a long impressive drive to the 5 bedroom home and 3 car garage and parking galore. For a professional, this is a winner!

"82 ACRE FARM" - If your family enjoys quaint fireplaces, wideboards and beams, a cheerful windowed family room overlooking fields and woods for hunting, fishing, farming, swimming and tiding - come see our country property in the Sourland Foothills. Freshly painted and spruced up - the 9 room 1750 colonial plus charming guest house on 62 plus/minus acres - answers the needs of all in the family: charm for Mom, fun for Kids - investment for Dad $280,000

A DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH - This is a fabulous value! An open hearth fireplace in the slate floored kitchen, wooden beams and antique mantles are but a few of the features in this farmstead home. Located in a picturesque historical area on the outskirts of town, the extensive frontage on this 85 +/- acre farm with a romantic past will assure a happy secure future for the investor, builder or property minded family $255,000

COLONIAL GEM IN THE CENTER OF PRINCETON - A sweetheart of a house in town ideal for the family who loves a central location. This gleaming white colonial is in magnificent condition with its charming brick walk and patio opening on three-fourths of an acre of park like splendor. Living room with gracious fireplace, center foyer, formal dining room, completely modern kitchen, powder room and sunny music room round out the first floor picture. Upstairs are three spacious bedrooms and bath. Down a carpeted flight is a paneled den with wet bar, wine cellar and built-in closets. Call to see this jewel for yourself $128,500

ISN'T IT LOV-E-LY? True country atmosphere. Bi-Level Ranch - Upper level has large modern kitchen, living room, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, 2 car garage, breezeway. Completely finished lower level contains fully equipped kitchen, living room, bedroom, bath, storage or additional bedroom. Central air conditioning. Opposite golf course $79,900

HOW SWEET IT IS - Throw a few logs in the fireplace and the whole family can "cozy up" in the paneled family room. Our newest listing is a charming colonial w/4 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, beamed-ceiling kitchen w/dishwasher, w/w carpeting, full basement partially finished, and other extras. When summer comes, you will say, "who needs the beach?" as you dive into your own 16' x 32' in-ground pool. All this on 1/2 acre lot $69,900

ELEGANTE SANS DOUTE! A new Princeton Tudor on 2+ wooded acres in Princeton will make your heart beat faster! Can you imagine the joy of owning a 2,600 sq. ft. custom home with spacious entertainment areas, 5 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths with all amenities? Before the home is built, we can incorporate the details and colors you select. You'll be thrilled to invite your friends and loved ones to your open house, graduation or wedding parties in this magnificent new home. Please invite us. $142,900

 SPRING PESTS IN WINTER

with Sam deTuro

February and March is the best time for property owners, who have shade and fruit trees on their lawns, to begin slapping on controls to fight against damaging bugs and diseases. Egg masses and various tree diseases infiltrate to their "nesting grounds" during these months.

Shade trees should be protected against pests that live like gluttonous black marketeers, sapping their vitality, marring their beauty, and often causing their death.

Dormant spraying with special miscible oils will kill overwintering egg masses.
 Mr. deTuro cautions the homeowner not to wait until damage by scale insects, cankerworms, aphids, gypsy moths, tent caterpillars and browntail moths occurs in the early spring, but strongly recommends calling a tree expert now to help diagnose possible trouble, then schedule promptly dormant spraying and any other corrective treatments.

NEXT WEEK: Life Span of a Tree Increased by Care.

EMPRESS LANE

This house is beautifully arranged, with many attractive features: handsome fireplace and patio doors in the living room; triple window in the dining room; new eat-in kitchen and an adjoining family room, with a bay window overlooking the treed yard. It also has a powder room, a laundry room, a utility room, 3 bedrooms and 2 baths.

$74,900

LAKE DRIVE

This custom-built house has a central foyer, a fireplace in the living room, a screened porch off the dining room, a wet bar in the family room, and an eat-in kitchen. There are four bedrooms and two and a half baths. The setting is lovely: a professionally landscaped lot with an extra-large flagstone patio

$126,000

COTSWOLD LANE

A nearly-finished Thompson Cape Cod has been planned to perfection! Downstairs are the large, welcoming entry, a living room with a fireplace, a formal dining room with sliding doors to the deck, a family room with its fireplace, a fantastic kitchen, breakfast room, laundry, powder room, master bedroom and bath. Upstairs are three other bedrooms and two more baths. The house is ready to be finished — just choose the paint, tiles, flooring and all; then enjoy it, on its beautiful wooded lot in Hopewell.

CAMPBELTON CIRCLE

It's rare — a house which is just as attractive from the back as it is from the front! But that's only one of many unusual aspects of this western Borough house. Others include four handsome fireplaces extremely pretty tiling, beautiful woodwork, a nice game area, and more — words aren't enough; see it today!

Retired Army General, Once Chief Engineer at World's Fair, Volunteer Consultant to Township on Flood Control Problems

Somebody once said that, as a subject, nothing is drier than water.

But this Wednesday, when hearings are held in Trenton on the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission's "208" water quality plans, a chief critic will be a West Point graduate, former Rhodes Scholar, Robert Moses - antagonist who knows more about water than anybody except Neptune, has wangled $6.5 million into President Carter's budget and confidently expects $1 million more; and likes to tell with glee how, as a chief of staff in France not so many years ago, he used to sneak into a French girls' school at night to court its headmistress.

Brigadier General William Whipple Jr.

Brigadier General William Whipple Jr. is spoken of with some awe around Princeton Township. Tapped by former mayor Jay Bleiman - another Army Corps of Engineers man - General Whipple got an unenforceable flood - plain ordinance into shape so that he can now say with pride: "It's a good one!"

Flood Studies Made. On his advice, the Township had flood studies done of Harry's Brook and Mountain Lakes Brook. Following state approval, the Township amended its flood plain ordinance in light of these studies. (When the state completes its own studies of the Township's Van Horn Brook, they will be up for approval along with the already-completed Mountain Lakes work.)

And the Township will benefit from a Whipple study of the effect of erosion in urban streams, because the subject is ... Harry's Brook. The Township is providing funds to match Federal money. The study will be done at Rutgers' Water Resources Research Institute which General Whipple has directed since 1965.

Animated and energetic, decisive and practical, General Whipple has scarcely been at loose ends since his retirement from the Corps of Engineers in 1960 after 30 years' service.

That same year, he signed on as chief engineer of the World's Fair under Robert Moses.

He reminisces about Moses and the Fair as he sits in his sunny Mercer Road house, surrounded by plants and Victorian treasures and fondly scratching the ears of one of the three Whipple dogs - an extremely large and affectionate Poodle-Labrador named Ruttercup.

In One Word... "Moses and I disliked each other intensely," General Whipple says cheerfully. When a reporter wonders aloud whether Mr. Moses ever had any friends, the response is prompt: "No."

As Fair engineer, William Whipple was responsible for everything from ornamental fountains to roads and TV hook-ups. When New Jersey's pavillion collapsed, killing two, it was he who had to review the plans and decide how to proceed. He decided the pavillion could be rebuilt from the same plans because the collapse had been the fault of the contractor.

"The plans were those of Norman Sollenberger, a structural engineer here at Princeton University. He is a crackerjack."

"But Moses! I have a photograph showing President Kennedy conferring with me, and Moses looking on with an expression I can only describe as one of hate."

"We had a hell of a hang up finally. Agreed to part the day the Fair opened in 1964. As part of the agreement, I agreed to say nothing adverse to any officer of the Fair corporation for five years."

Here Some Years Ago, A master's degree in engineering earned at Princeton and a series of seminars given at the University during the '60s made it natural to return, after the Rutgers invitation.

The nocturnal courtship in France of Paola, the second Mrs. Whipple, (the General's first wife died, leaving three children) was a successful one. Moving to Princeton, Madame Whipple taught French for many years at Princeton Day School and is still vividly remembered. The General says proudly that she was a "fabulous!" teacher whose students often went directly into college junior French after leaving PDS.

But there was unhappiness, too, and Mme. Whipple left the school. She had trouble finding another teaching post, and yearned increasingly for France. The Whipples were divorced, she returned to her native country and is now, the General says, head of one of the largest and most prestigious schools in France.

How a Budget Was Saved. A man who talks with relish and pleasure about his own work, General Whipple is equally involved with the work of those who are close to him. His third wife, Dr. Frances Cheek, is director of behavior modification programs in New Jersey's Department of Corrections, working in prisons and with drug programs.

Having had some experience with budgets himself, General Whipple likes to tell how Dr. Cheek's budget was saved after letters from Chief Justice Richard Hughes and "a six-foot-three murderer named Amhrse who wrote my wife and said, 'I understand your budget may be cancelled. We're going to get 300 signatures and send them to the governor and the papers. If that doesn't work, we'll go to the NAACP.' And she got her funding!"

He lives his own professional life at all levels of budgeting: local, county, regional, state, Federal.

For people to whom "208 planning" sounds vaguely like an Interstate, General Whipple explains: "208" is the section number of the 1972 Federal water act.

"The prime objective is good drinking water. Next is a good environment, which means a stream fish can live in. We must control some things to reasonable limits, primarily organic material - which reduces oxygen - and also heavy metals, hydrocarbons, and nutrients."

Parking Lots Pollute. Most New Jersey streams, including the Millstone and Stony Brook, are used for drinking water and ground water can be a pollutant. Parking lots, like one General

HINGLE DIRECTS
 "Toys." When an actor decides to direct, he spends some time looking for the right play for his debut. Pat Hingle, who acted two seasons ago at McCarter in "A Grave Undertaking," accepted Michael Kahn's invitation to direct "Toys in the Attic," because, Mr. Hingle says, "It's a director's dream: very tightly written, very tightly constructed."
 Lillian Hellman's drama will open at McCarter next Thursday, March 2, and will play through March 19.

Mr. Hingle has said that director Elia Kazan, with whom he has done a number of productions, is one of his major influences.
 "Elia -- and Burgess Meredith -- always stressed that a play had to tell a story, that what we were all involved in was telling a story to an audience, and that if the story didn't get across, then we had failed in our principal job."
 "That's the way I'm working on 'Toys in the Attic' now: as a story -- and a very powerful one -- of people who deceive one another because of love."
 In Mr. Hingle's cast are David Selby, Deborah Offner, Catherine Byers, Stanja Lowe, Barbara Andress and Ron Fuster.

THEY TEACH, DANCE
 In Concert. "A Concert of Modern Dance" will feature Jim May, a member of the teaching staff in Princeton University's program in theatre and dance, and his wife, Lorry May, as well as student performers.
 The concert will be given this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 24-26, at 8:30 p.m. in Alexander Hall. Tickets will be on sale at the door each evening.

"Memory of Justice," Marcel Ophuis' 1975 documentary, "Memory of Justice" will be shown next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (February 28, March 1, 2) at 7 p.m. in McCosh 10 as part of the Movies-at-McCarter series.

The film explores collective vs. individual responsibility, beginning with the Nuremberg war crimes trials of the '40s, and continuing with France's involvement in Algeria and America's in Vietnam.

The film contains interviews with Telford Taylor, Albert Speer, Daniel Elsborg, Admiral Doenitz, Col. Anthony Herbert and Ophuis' German wife. The director completed some of his work on the film while he was teaching at Princeton University.

This Wednesday and Thursday, McCarter will continue its presentation of "Edvard Munch," which is also being screened in McCosh 10.

MEAT LOAF

All of Him. The 300-lb. singer called Meat Loaf who performs in a tuxedo, will bring his meat to Alexander Hall on Friday, March 10 (8 p.m.) in a performance sponsored by McCarter. Songwriter Jim Steinman who is also a pianist, will join Meat Loaf and seven back-up musicians.

"Bat out of Hell," the first Meat Loaf - Steinman album, sold 200,000 copies in its first three months. "Our music," Steinman has said, "is like a combination of 'West Side Story' and 'Clockwork Orange.'"

Meat Loaf, movie fans will recall, played the degenerate who is eaten in the film called "Rocky Horror Show." A veteran rock 'n roll singer, he recorded singles for Molown in the early '70s, and sang on Ted Nugent's "Free for All" album.

Steinman wrote "Dream Engine," which he describes as "rock 'n roll Peter Pan (it was given at the Kennedy Center, Washington), teamed up with Meat Loaf for his show, "More Than You Deserve" at Joseph Papp's Public Theatre and again in the National Lampoon Show.

REHEARSALS UNDERWAY

For "Boys in the Band," Princeton Community Players have begun work on their latest production, "The Boys in the Band," written by Mart Crowley.

The play, which opened in New York to rave reviews in April, 1968, revolves around a party of homosexuals at which many revelations are made about their particular problems and those of humankind in general. But dire as some situations may be, the play does not want for

PJ&B Musical, 'Brigadoon,' Earns Its Place In Long Line of Previous Hit Productions

PJ&B, true to its well-deserved reputation for first-rate musical productions, has another hit in "Brigadoon." This 12th annual production by Princeton Junction and Back sets your heart singing, your feet tapping, and your hands clapping, repeatedly, in recognition of the excellence you feel and see and hear before you.

Once again Milton Lyon reveals his extensive background, his diverse capabilities, and his heartfelt love for his work as he directs a cast of nearly 150. Even when the entire cast is on stage, and that is far more often than in most musicals, the stage is full but never crowded; bursting and bustling, but never out of control. And nowhere is this more obvious than in the beautiful curtain call.

Lyon would be readily forgiven if his curtain call had succumbed to the usual mob scene that is almost inevitable with such a huge cast when each performer takes a turn at coming forward into the final spotlight. Instead he has opted for the motionless tableaux that is so perfectly in keeping with the wondrous enchantment of the play itself.

But that is getting ahead of the story.

As Lerner and Loewe's sentimental musical begins, we hear the beautiful voices of the massed chorus sing the prologue from the rear of McCarter Theatre. Right at the outset we are caught between the singers and the stage, swept into the mysterious world of Brigadoon. Then the curtain rises to reveal two American hunters, Tommy Albright (Reid White) and Jeff Douglas (Harry Richards), lost in a forest in the Scottish Highlands.

We arrive in the nearby town of Brigadoon just ahead of Tommy and Jeff and are treated to a dazzling array of lads and lassies in a highly festive mood. This is the magical town that miraculously appears out of the fog for only one day in every hundred years, and this, of course, is that day.

The townsfolk are full of joy and anticipation as they prepare for the wedding of Jean MacLaren (a vision of loveliness superbly danced by Lynne Dennis) and Charlie Dalrymple (portrayed by the handsome Brent Monahan, whose stirring voice does full justice to the ever-popular "I'll Go Home with Bonnie Jean.") Meanwhile Harry Beaton (Chad Restum), having vied unsuccessfully for Jean's affections, alternately sulks and rants, begrudgingly dancing with the adoring Maggie Anderson (hauntingly portrayed by Mari-Anna deThomas). So there is one dark cloud in the sunny sky.

This is the scene that Tommy and Jeff happen upon. The loud, out-going, man-loving Meg Brockie (played to the hilt by Suzie Bertin) takes an instant liking to Jeff and winks him off to the open shed where her Ma and Pa first met. Ms. Bertin's rendition of "The Love of My Life" is a real show-stopper.

Meanwhile, the quieter Fiona MacLaren, older sister of the bride-to-be (played with great charm and just the right combination of sweetness and insight by Carole Davis, whose beautiful voice complements her good looks), has set her sights on handsome Tommy. Naturally everything happens very quickly and within minutes the two are in love.

At Tommy's insistence, Fiona takes him to the home of Mr. Lundie, the town's historian and philosopher to hear the story of Brigadoon. (Jim Hopkins looks the part but frequently can't be heard; especially, and annoyingly, when delivering the most important speech in the entire play.)

We learn that 200 years ago, to help Brigadoon escape witches, God allowed the town to disappear and reappear for one day each century but, although outsiders like Tommy can join the community, if anyone leaves, Brigadoon will disappear forever.

Sour Harry does leave, but falls on the way, hits his head and dies.

Back in New York, Mr. Lundie appears magically to announce that Tommy's love for Fiona is so strong that he is to be allowed to return to Brigadoon and he does.

Much of the play's story line is advanced through dancing. Joan Morton Lucas returns for the 13th time to choreograph a PJ&B production. But in this case 13 is a lucky number to be sure. Most ably assisted by Jane Bennett, who serves as the Scottish dance consultant, Ms. Lucas' work runs the gamut from the evocative "Bonnie Jean Ballet" through the sprightly "Jeanie's Packin' Up" and the exuberant Wedding Dance, highlighted by the awe-inspiring "Sword Dance," to the moving "Funeral Dance," so breathtakingly staged and performed as to serve, in some ways, as the emotional heart of the play. Ruth Floyd and Patricia Boardman designed costumes, and Giles Crane performs on the bagpipe.

Charles G. Stone II demonstrates time and again his ability to convey a sense of space (as in the opening scene in the Scottish Highland forest) or a close intimate setting (as in the New York City bar at the end). Only with his depiction of the MacLaren house does he miss the mark. The best that can be said is that its unbelievable expansiveness facilitates the fast-paced dances that take place therein.

Credit also goes to all others who must remain nameless here because of sheer numbers, but without whom there would be no "Brigadoon."

TRIO RETURNS
For McCarter Concert. The Beaux Arts Trio will return to Princeton on Monday at 8:30 at McCarter Theatre in the third concert of Series II of the Princeton University Concerts. The trio -- Menahem Pressler, pianist, Isidore Cohen, violinist, and Bernard Greenhouse, cellist -- will perform Schubert: Trio in E flat Major, Opus 100, and Beethoven: Trio in B flat Major, Opus 97 ("Archduke").

Since its debut twenty years ago, the Trio has probably played more than 3,500 engagements throughout North America, Europe, Israel, Africa and the Middle East. It recently won the "Grand Prix du Disque" and has also recorded all the Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, Mendelssohn, Ravel, Tchaikovsky, op. 50, and Schubert and Dvorak trios.

Mr. Pressler has had a distinguished career, appearing as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic, the Cleveland Orchestra and the Indianapolis Symphony, and in European concert and orchestral engagements. He currently lives in Bloomington, Ind., where he is on the faculty of the University of Indiana.

Mr. Cohen, violinist, is a graduate of Juilliard School where he studied with Ivan Galamian. He has an extensive chamber music background, which includes membership in the Juilliard String Quartet and appearances with the Budapest Quartet and Music from Marlboro.

Mr. Greenhouse, cellist, is a graduate of Juilliard and studied with Pablo Casals for two years. He plays the famous "Paganini" Stradivarius cello, dated 1707. He is on the faculties of Manhattan School of Music and New York State University.

Tickets are available at the McCarter Theatre Box Office, and students' tickets at $2.50 are available the day of the concert at the box office.

COMPOSER FEATURED
In Concert Series. Under the joint sponsorship of the Princeton University Music Department and the Friends of Music, "Meet the Composer," the first of three free special events will be given on Sunday at Woolworth Center. These will consist of discussion - rehearsals and concerts with the composer present. The featured composer this Sunday will be Charles Wuorinen.

There will be a discussion - rehearsal at 2, open to all students and members of the Friends of Music, followed by a concert at 3, open to the public. The New York New Music Ensemble, Robert Black, director, will perform works by Mr. Wuorinen, David Chaitkin, George Edwards and Isang Yun.

Pulitzer prize-winning composer Charles Wuorinen is a native New Yorker whose list of awards and prizes, began in 1954, when at the age of 16 he won the New York Philharmonic Young Composers Award. Of his approximately 130 compositions, 20 have won prizes and awards, and his works have been performed by most of the major orchestras here and abroad.

Mr. Wuorinen will discuss his works and will involve the audience and give them some insight into the composer's methods, meanings and philosophy.

This event is made possible in part through a grant from "Meet the Composer," with support from the National Endowment for the Arts, Helena Rubinstein Foundation, Martha Baird Rockefeller Fund for Music and the Alice M. Ditson Fund. There will be two more "Meet the Composer" events this spring featuring composers Mario Davidovsky and Robert Pollock.

For more information, call the Concert Office, 924-0453 or 452-4239.

CONCERT SCHEDULED
By Princeton Students. Two Princeton University seniors, Andrea Matthews, soprano, and Allan Wieman, bass, will give a free concert on Saturday at 3:30 in Woolworth Center, on the University campus, under the auspices of the Friends of Music. Kathleen Connolly, pianist, and a senior at Princeton, will accompany the singers in a program of songs by Brahms and Manuel de Falla and duets and arias from "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart and "La Traviata" by Verdi.

Miss Matthews is a history student at Princeton and is studying voice with Shirlee Emmons. She has performed as soloist with the Princeton Glee Club, Chapel Choir and Chamber Chorus. She is also a member of the Princeton Madrigal Society and will appear as the First Spirit in the Princeton University Opera Theatre's production of "The Magic Flute" this spring.

Mr. Wieman has performed here under the auspices of the Friends of Music. He has been soloist with the Chapel Choir and appeared in the opera "Bastien and Bastienne." He is a past member of the campus singing group, the "Katzenjammers" and is also a voice student of Shirlee Emmons.

TO SING ELIJAH
At Nassau Street Church. The 58-voice adult choir of the Nassau Presbyterian Church will sing an abridged version of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" Sunday at 11.

Robert Jacks, baritone and professor of speech at Princeton Theological Seminary, will take the part of Elijah. Soloists will include Mary Thompson, soprano; Jane Smith, alto; Patrick Flannagan, tenor, and Eberhard Frenhlich, who will sing the part of the youth George Markey. An internationally known master organist will play the organ accompaniment, and Mary Krimmel will direct.

CHORAL LEADER HERE
To Conduct Bach Motets. The "dean" of European choral conductors, Wilhelm Ehmann, has arrived to begin a four-month residence as a visiting professor at Westminster Choir College. During this time he will be the conductor of the 40 voice Westminster Choir while Joseph Flummerfelt is on a sabbatical leave. Mr. Ehmann will hold classes and demonstrations and will prepare, conduct and record the six "Motets" of Bach with the Choir. All six motets will be sung on each of several performances, at Alexander Hall, Princeton.

"Having checked with authorities who are knowledgeable on the subject," said Ray E. Robinson, President of Westminster, "we can reasonably say that Westminster Choir will be the first to sing all the 'Motets' on one concert. Something of a marathon feat, it has not been done before, to our knowledge."

DUO-PIANISTS TO PLAY
At Mercer County College, Mercer County Community College's Performing Arts Department will present Louise and William Cheadle, duo-pianists, on Friday at 8 in the Kelsey Theatre on the West Windsor campus. Mr. Cheadle is presently associate professor of piano at Westminster Choir College where Mrs. Cheadle is director of the Conservatory Division.

They are graduates of the Juilliard School, where they received many awards and prizes as solo performers and where they began their work as duo-pianists.

Devoting intensive study to both the duo-piano and one piano, four-hand literature, the Cheadles have performed extensively throughout the Eastern seaboard and the midwest in recital and orchestral appearances. In addition to their duo and four-hand piano recitals, both have been heard in solo recitals, chamber music performances and as soloists with orchestras.

General admission is $3, $1 to MCCC students and alumni with I.D., and free to senior citizens. For further information, call MCCC's Performing Arts Department at 586-4695.

COSTUME CONTEST SET
At QuakerBridge Mall, QuakerBridge 4 Theatres, WPSAT Radio and Liberty Travel will hold a movie star dress-alike contest Saturday between 10 and 11. Everyone is invited to come dressed in a costume of a movie star, or depicting a motion picture title of their choice.

Winners will be chosen in five costume categories: best actor, best actress, best picture title, best child star and best science fiction costume.

The seven judges will be Hal Stein, promotion director for WPST Radio; Ruth Bauer, promotion director for QuakerBridge Mall; Frank Tyger, promotion director of the Trenton Times; Neil Compeas, film critic, Princeton Spectrum; Ellen Wexler, film critic, Channel 52 PBS Television; Joe Acquino, manager, Liberty Travel, and Jose DeJesus, American Airline representative.

Three semi-finalists will be picked in each category of costume. A single winner will be selected in each category, and a grand prize winner will be chosen from the five category winners.

The five finalists will receive a gold pass from the QuakerBridge 4 Theatres good for one year for two people. The winner of the grand prize will receive a three-night, four-day trip to Hollywood for two, including round-trip air fare, hotel accommodations, one day at Disneyland, a tour of Universal Studios and $200 spending money.

All contestants who enter the contest, whether they win or not, will be admitted to the QuakerBridge 4 Theatres after the judging for a free movie.

BALLET BEGINS TOUR
Of County Schools. The Princeton Ballet Company, Audree Estey, Director, has begun its annual school tour of lecture demonstrations and introductions to dance. A grant of $1,000 from the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Division has made it possible to bring these programs to Mercer County school children. One of the performances will be Wednesday, March 8, at Riverside School.

The performances will alternate between two different programs. The first consists of a lecture demonstration of ballet, modern dance, and jazz. The second will include the lecture demonstrations, "Coppelia" Act II, and an excerpt from "Peter and the Wolf."

The Ballet will also appear in Brick Town, at the Brick Township High School on Sunday at 2.

The performance, sponsored by the Fine Art's Guild of the high school, will benefit the Guild's awards and scholarship fund in the field of art, drama and music. The show, which was donated by the Ballet Society to the New Jersey Public Television Fund-raising auction, was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rablenski of Brick Town, who, in turn donated it to the Fine Art's Guild to be used for its fund-raising activities.

The program will include a new short ballet, and two ballets from the company's regular repertoire, "Peter and the Wolf," choreographed by Audree Estey, and "Circus," choreographed by Nels Jorgensen. Principals in the program will be Emilietta Ettlin, Justin Glodowski, Roberto Medina, Dodie Pettit, and Roger Rouillier, who will be supported by the company corps de ballet.

ETHNOGRAPHY DISPLAYED
In Firestone Library. The display of ethnography at the exhibition galleries of the Itare Book Collection in Firestone Library includes a wealth of volumes representing man's innate curiosity about his counterparts in other part of the globe and his need to share this information with others. The display opens dramatically with a quote from Octavio Paz: "What sets worlds in motion is the interplay of differences... The ideal of a single civilization for everyone... impoverishes and mutilates us."

However, the literary aspect is only one element in this rich and pleasing display. Rare and exotic volumes offer engravings, the calligraphy of other alphabets, bindings that are arts of another era, photographs and cartography.

As if these were not enough to look at, a dramatic collection of photographs of Navajo and Pueblo Indians by Ulli Steltzer demonstrates the power of the photograph as an ethnographic medium.

The collection includes a volume of Herodotus, one of the earliest ethnographers, accompanied by an ornate journal by Ibn Khaldun, his Arab counterpart. The display then continues through the centuries to the present, including such early volumes as Marco Polo's narrations of his travels in a 14th century Italian first edition; Spanish, German and French accounts of the new world; and volumes recording and illustrating the travels of Captain Cook.

Melville's "Typee" (a peep at Polynesian life) is also included, as are numerous works documenting life in such remote places as Melanesia, Burma and India. The displayed volumes frequently offer both photographs and engravings, creating a visual mix that generates in the viewer some of the excitement and sense of variety portrayed in the many subjects.

The exhibit concludes chronologically with more recent works. E.M. Forster and Levi Struss are included, as is a display of fictional works demonstrating literary concerns with other cultures.

Steltzer's photographs provide comprehensive views

Museum Director Named

Fred S. Licht has been appointed as director of the Princeton University Art Museum, effective July 1, Provost Neil L. Rudenstine has announced. Since 1968, Mr. Licht has been director of the Florida State University Study Center in Florence, Italy.

In 1966, following the devastating floods in Italy, he was a founding member of the Committee to Rescue Italian Art (CRIA), an organization that played a critical role in helping to save and restore thousands of works of art in many parts of Italy. From 1970 through 1974, Mr. Licht was field director for all CRIA projects in Florence and Venice, the two cities which were most seriously affected by the floods.

Mr. Licht, 49, is a 1949 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and earned his Ph.D. in art history and archaeology at the University of Basel, Switzerland, in 1952. He taught in the art and archaeology department at Princeton from 1953 to 1957 and thereafter at Williams College and Brown University.

of Indian life. Portraits and landscapes are accompanied by accounts of daily living. Views of children at play, people working and everyday social situations give an intimate portrayal of the subject communities.

At Squibb Galleries. The Squibb Galleries are featuring contemporary Viennese painting as a part of their salute to that city. The paintings are selected from the collection of the Zentralsparkasse der Gemeinder Wien, the municipally owned central savings bank of Vienna. The collection, which we are told is representative of contemporary Austrian art, is quite different from American and other European contemporary works.

While there are a few paintings that seem to reflect current modes, the majority appear to deal with familiar images in an unfamiliar fashion. The paintings do not fall within the category of realism but, instead, seem to hover on the edge of fantasy, entitling them to be considered surreal or fantastic.

The presentation includes a great many hyper-realistic representations, but the combination of images, distortions of scale and perspective, together with an unusual palette that seems to be based on raw color, negates the realism. Instead, the viewer, like Alice, is confronted with an assortment of imagery that becomes "curiouser and curiouser". Most f the paintings include figurative themes in urban setting, but there is always something unlikely included.

On Thursday evenings a film celebrating the city of Vienna will be shown. The film is a pastiche of city life combined with many of the elements that are unique to Vienna.

At the Present Day Club, "Women In Photography" represents the work of 13 Princeton women. This extensive collection of competent photographs includes portraiture, still life, landscape, personal cameos and a great many representations that cannot be easily categorized.

With the exception of the work of Naomi Savage, who uses her medium in a unique fashion, the photographs in the display fall within the traditional use of the camera. A few transcend their representations to make a statement about the subject that is graphic in some cases and literary in others.

Included are works by

Naomi Savage, Lonny Sue Johnson, Martha Vaughn, Margie Fisher, Mary Cross, Jane Pearce, Mary Peck, Olive Holnback, Ruth Wilson, Elizabeth Stetson, Ellen Byrum, Anne Reeves and Heide Jain.

At the Loft, Watercolor paintings by Joy Barth deal with a variety of subjects but focus on architectural forms as the predominant theme. It is in these architectural works that the artist is at her best. Generally muted color combinations, applied in fluid washes, are complemented by linear accents which are used to heighten the structure. The paintings are well composed with the fluidity of the paint tempering the geometric nature of the subject.

SEASCAPES ON VIEW

At Gallery 100. Paintings by New Jersey artist Barbara J. Cocker are currently on view at Gallery 100.

Mrs. Cocker lives in Rumson where she has a studio, and in Nantucket, where she also operates a gallery called "Paintings of the Sea." Her exhibit consists of 15 acrylic paintings depicting scenes of the sea, marshland and sand dune areas of the New Jersey shore, Cape Cod and Nantucket. It will continue through March 10.

Mrs. Cocker has held numerous one-woman exhibitions. Her most recent shows were held at South Street Seaport Museum in New York City and the Provident National Bank in Philadelphia.

ART AUCTION SET

By Lawrenceville League. An international collection of fine art will go on sale for the benefit of the League of Women Voters of Lawrence Township on Saturday, March 4, at the Kirby Arts Center of The Lawrenceville School.

There will be a preview of the art works at 7, and the auction will begin at 8. The admission price of $2.50 per person includes champagne and hors d'oeuvres. There will also be a door prize.

The auctioneer will be Howard Mann of the Howard Mann Art Center of Lambertville. More than 150 original works of art will go under the gavel, including oils, watercolors, etchings, woodcuts, signed, numbered limited editions of other graphics.

The names include artists such as Baskin, Boulangier, Calder, Chagall, Dali, Delacroix, Goya, Japanese woodcut masters, Lalande, Miro, Nierman, Picasso, Rockwell, Renoir, Shahn, Utrilla, and Whistler. Co-honorary Auctioneers are artists Eva Kaplan of Lawrenceville, specializing in fabric and combine collage, and Susan Swartz of Princeton who has three paintings in the auction.

The auction proceeds will be used for League-sponsored activities, such as candidates night, non-artisan voter information publications, and voter registration services. In 1977 the League put out such publications as "This Is Mercer County," and "Know

Your Township Schools." Currently in progress is "Know Your Town" for Lawrenceville, under the auspices of the study group for the Lawrenceville Master Plan. All of the activities are carried on by volunteers.

The auction chairman is Carol Myers; Dehbi Wolf is president of the Lawrenceville League. For ticket information, call 896-9394.

The Woman's Place to Close March 31—Lack of Funds and Volunteer Help Cited

The Woman's Place, 14½ Witherspoon Street, which first opened its doors to all area women as a social and educational service in 1972, will close on March 31.

The center has served hundreds of women through its resource and referral services and has offered numerous programs and social activities developed by women for women. During its five years of existence, The Woman's Place has served about 400 women a year in reaching medical, legal and social service agencies. It has maintained a 24-hour answering service to assist women in need.

The center has also provided a place where women can come and meet others in a social environment that is both cordial and welcoming — a place where female residents and newcomers to central New Jersey can become a part of the community. The reason for demise is the drastic decline in volunteer help and financial support.

During a recent fund-raising campaign, the Woman's Place collected about $300 in donations. These funds are allowing the Woman's Place to remain open until the end of March. All donations will be used towards the payment of operating expenses through that time.

Though the center's doors will officially close on that date, its resource, referral and library services will be relocated within the area, according to Cy Husse-Batke, coordinator. The Woman's Place, a non-profit, tax-exempt organization, presently seeks a small office to set up these services.

On Friday beginning at 7 p.m., the center will hold its last public function — an "Open House Closing Get-together."

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW Brought to You
by John Bernard

Who would you vote for if you were asked to name the greatest all-around athlete of all-time? ... Actually, nobody ever achieved the heights in so many different sports -- in major competition -- as Jim Thorpe did ... It's amazing when you consider that Thorpe made the Hall of Fame in both college and pro football -- and won gold medals in track at the Olympics, and played major league baseball for 6 years!

Did you know that of all the major sports, basketball is the only one that is completely American in origin ... All the other major sports had their origins elsewhere.

Here's an oddity ... The man who hurled the best-pitched game in big league baseball history wound up LOSING that game! ... On May 26, 1959, Harvey Haddix pitched a perfect game for 12 innings (the only time in major league history anybody ever did that) ... He retired 36 straight batters, an all-time record for one game -- but his own team didn't score and he lost the game in the 13th inning ... Thus the greatest-ever pitching performance resulted in a loss!

I bet you didn't know that our $10,000 deductible major medical with a $250,000 limit could cost a man age 50, wife age 48 and two children as little as $240.00 per year.

Tiger Hockey Team's Victory over Harvard a Major Triumph; Three More Games Here in Five Days as Season Nears an End

All of the hard work came to fruition, and much of the frustration from a losing season was assuaged, at least temporarily, Saturday night when Princeton's hockey team soundly defeated Harvard, 6 to 3, in Baker Rink. It was the Tigers' first triumph over the highly-regarded Crimson in 11 years. Five more games remain on the schedule, three within a five-day period. Clarkson, fourth-ranked in the East, will be in Baker Rink Friday, and St. Lawrence, whose 14th place on the ladder is just two rungs above Princeton, will come here Saturday.

SPORTS
In Princeton

Penn, which the Tigers battled to a 2-2 tie in December and the only Ivy team they have a chance of passing in the final standings, is on the schedule Tuesday. All games are at 7:30.

While last weekend's action brought the long-awaited form reversal against Harvard, it began with a 6-3 defeat at the hands of Dartmouth, the only Ivy foe Princeton had previously beaten this winter. As much as anything else, the Tigers' victory over the Crimson was credited to a standout performance in goal by senior Fred Cherne, who kicked out 29 of 32 Harvard shots. On Friday, he had replaced Dave Ramsay at the start of the third period and blanked the Green after it had beaten Ramsay six times. Two goals each by freshman Dave Tweedy, both on power plays, and Co-captain John Van Sieten, led the victors' scoring. These were sandwiched between the opener that sophomore Cliff Lawrick got as early as 2:12 of the first round and Trevor Kilburn's slider into an empty net with 41 seconds left. For the happy, noisy crowd of well over 2,000, that set off non-stop cheering and chanting, a joyous sound peculiar to the breed of Rink Rats.

Fred Cherne
Three Goals Allowed in 4 Periods

Harvard Rallies for Lead. Lawrick's rebound of Frank Techar's shot found the Harvard cage undefended on the left side, the Tigers holding that lead for ten minutes, when the visitors' power play retaliated with a goal off Cherne's stretched out leg. Harvard then took a 2-1 lead 36 seconds into the middle period on a short-handed goal strictly attributable to sloppy Tiger passing in the Princeton defensive zone. Tweedy then connected twice in succession from much the same angle on the right of the Harvard cage. His first at 0:57 hit the far corner on the ice; his second hit the goalie's stick, rolled up his arm and fell over his shoulder into the net. After taking that 3-2 margin, the Tigers made sure that the game did not get away from them, despite several penalties they had to work off.

Their lead was 5-3 at 12:56 of the third period when freshman Gary McClellan was banished for charging, and was followed at 14:20 by Craig Treshman for tripping. For 36 seconds, Harvard had a two-man advantage and it remained a man long for 96 seconds. During that time, the Crimson was able to launch just one shot on goal.

Cherne, who made a number of standout saves from point-blank range, benefitted from one stroke of good fortune during his great evening. A Harvard player just a foot outside the crease to the left had an open shot on a rebound and could do no better than hit the far post.

Possibly the prettiest goal of the night, even more eye-catching than Kilburn's shot from his own blue line into the open Harvard goal, was Van Sieten's breakaway for a valuable insurance tally. Taking an accurate pass across one line from sophomore defenseman Pete Delorey, he went in alone on the goal and flipped the puck from a dozen feet out into the upper right corner. That made it 5-2 with just under 12 minutes left, and left a good Harvard team with little or no chance of catching league-leading Cornell.

John Van Sieten

Early Lead for Dartmouth. A three-goal outburst in the first 12 minutes by Dartmouth put Princeton's hopes for two in a row over the Green in the deep freeze. Ramsay needed more protection that he was getting in the goal, and showed signs of pressure, the third Dartmouth score beating him when he was without his stick, which he had lost in a melee.

Craig Treshman got his team's first goal before the round ended, but another 3-1 session followed and the game was prevented from becoming a rout only because Cherne came on to prevent the victors from adding to their total in the final 20 minutes. Rob Sherstobitoff, a freshman defenseman who has not only won a starting role but is improving in each appearance, got both of Princeton's last two goals. The Tigers have three players who know what defense is all about (Delorey and junior Dave Kelley are the others), but three isn't enough when most other teams have five or six.

128 Home Season Ends for Tiger Quintet with Yale and Brown Games

Town Topics, Princeton, N.J., Wednesday, February 22, 1978 • 128

The final portion of the home schedule for Princeton's basketball team will be played this weekend when Yale comes to Jadwin Gym for a Friday contest at 9 and Brown follows Saturday for a game at 8. Thereafter, contests against Cornell and Columbia on March 3 and 4 will bring the season to a close.

Had the Orange and Black been able to beat Columbia here earlier this month, it might have placed sufficient pressure on Penn to force a playoff with the Quakers. Penn barely averted its first loss of the season last week at Hanover, when a buzzer shot beat Dartmouth, 60 to 58, and next night was upset by Harvard, 93 to 87.

It is unlikely that the Quakers will fail to win at least three of their final four games -- the two this weekend at home with Brown and Yale and the Columbia - Cornell swing a week later. They could, of course, fall back into a tie with the Lions by losing at New York on March 3, but that would still leave Princeton a game short of achieving a three-way tie.

Columbia, meanwhile, must handle the same Dartmouth - Harvard road trip which nearly cost Penn a pair of defeats. Chances are at least even that the Lions will drop one of these, thus virtually assuring Penn of the title before the final weekend arrives.

Tigers in Good Form. While Penn was in all kinds of trouble at Hanover and Cambridge, Princeton played the type of basketball its followers had been hoping for on a season-long basis. The Tigers were in charge of both games, having a bit of a problem with Harvard before winning, 79-65, and then running away from Dartmouth, 62-47.

The Crimson was not only in the game at the half, when it trailed by four (37-33) after having taken an 8-0 lead, but drew within three (60-57) with 5:40 to go. Bob Roma had fouled out of the game by then but Tom Young contributed a three-point play that helped the visitors break the game open.

They did it at the foul line as the Crimson was charged with 37 personals which produced 48 free throws. The Orange and Black converted 35 times, hitting at an 80 percent average on 28-for-35 shooting in the final 20 minutes.

Because of the rules change several years ago which requires six team fouls before a free throw is awarded -- unless the personal is committed in the act of shooting -- none of these totals set either an Ivy or a Princeton record. The Tigers of 1954 made 37 foul shots against Northwestern and that year had 56 attempts against Rutgers

Frank Sowinski, who was 12 for 12 at the line, reached a career high with 28 points, while Roma had 22 to give this pair a combined total within 15 points of Harvard's team score. Three Crimson players fouled out and three others had four personals at the buzzer as the Crimson lost its 15th straight to Pete Carril.

One Cold, One Hot. It was frustrating for Gary Walters, Carril's one-time assistant, to see his team fail to give the touring Tigers any sort of a game after having come close to beating Penn 24 hours earlier. A 29 percent Dartmouth floor average in the first half while the Tigers were hitting for 61 percent in the slow-paced action told the story.

With 14 minutes gone, Princeton's tough defense had held the home team to four points while posting 18. It was 24-12 at the half and 49-28 toward the end before the losers cut into the margin slightly. Sterling Edmonds, the Green's 6-9 center, contributed one more than half his team's total with 24 points.

So skillful was the Princeton defense that Dartmouth made only three foul shots compared to 22 for the Tigers. The losers actually outshot the Orange and Black from the floor, 22-20, while losing by 15 points. Roma led four Prinetonians in double figures with 18; Sowinski added 16. John Lewis a dozen and Bob Kleinert 10.

Sowinski's two-night total of 44 raised his career mark to 1,077. If he maintains his 16-point average in his final four games, he will rank sixth on the Tigers' all-time scoring list

Yale and Brown, due here this weekend, are among the poorest teams in the East, with overall records of 6-13 and 3-15. Ten days ago, Princeton topped the Elis at New Haven, 72-49, and then conquered Brown, 80-65.

The Bulldogs, who do not list

a senior on their roster, field a team composed of juniors with limited experience and sophomores who had a 16-2 freshman record. Captain Jim Yent, a forward, and guards Larry Zigerelli and Frank Maturro are among the top players.

Brown, unusually hard hit by graduation and injuries, nonetheless holds an upset of Columbia at Providence among its three triumphs. Bruce Rhodes, a 6-3 swing man, is the only returning starter, while the pick of the sophomores are 6-8 center Scott Doyle and forwards Dave King and Peter Moss.

6 TEAMS TO COMPETE

In PDS Hockey Tourney. The Princeton Day hockey tournament, expanded from four teams to six this year, will be held Friday and Saturday, giving the Panthers a chance to finish this up-and-down season on an up note.

Hill School, with two victories already over Lawrenceville and PDS, is the odds-on favorite to capture the title it won last year, but the Blue and White has a decent shot at meeting the Pottstown, Pa. school in the finals. Games will be played at both PDS and Lawrenceville.

In opening round games at 3 Friday afternoon, Princeton Day will meet Pingry, which it beat a week ago, 8-2; and Lawrenceville will play Chestnut Hill. Assuming PDS can handle Pingry a second time, it will then play Williston - Northampton at 8 p.m. Friday night. Hill will play the winner of the other contest also at 8. Hill and Williston, which finished one-two last year, were given first-round hives this year.

Losers of Friday's games will play Saturday morning at 9, with the consolation finals set for 1 p.m. and the championship game following at 3. The public is invited to all games at no charge; refreshments will be available.

Big One Got Away. The Panthers played three times last week, winning twice to move a game over .500 with a 9-8 mark, but the one they would have liked to win most slipped away in the third period. After being snowed out twice, the return match with Lawrenceville was finally played on Thursday, with the Larries managing to avenge the loss they suffered in the first meeting.

Coming off two rather disorganized contests, the Panthers sought to keep matters more in control and Lawrenceville felt the same way. Both teams played deliberate hockey, looking to make very few mistakes.

The first period was scoreless, and so was the first half of the second, when the Larries finally found the mark to take a 1-0 lead. PDS knotted the score with less than a minute remaining when Rob Olsson tallied on a power play, assisted by Lucky Pyne and Kent Wilkinson.

Six minutes went by in the final stanza, before Lawrenceville scored its second goal when a player was left unattended near the net after a face-off. The winners then tallied on three consecutive power plays to break the contest open. Olsson put in his second on another assist from Wilkinson to end the scoring.

Earlier in the week, games against Pingry and Wintersports proved to be rather ragged affairs, but the Panthers won both, 8-2 and 9-5. The third line did some effective work against Pingry as Doug Matthews tallied twice and assisted on two others. John Drezner, Will Kain, Olsson, Pyne, Wilkinson and Mike Shannon also scored.

Pingry, which matched PDS in the shot department, had several excellent chances to score, but Jeff Johnson proved equal to the task.

Wintersports arrived with just nine skaters and no coach, but managed to stay with PDS through the first two periods. It was 4-4 at the end of the second, but the Blue and White despite numerous penalties, managed four unanswered goals in the third, before the visitors scored their fifth and last.

Kain, Shannon and Pyne had two apiece, Larry Pier-

Opening of Ball Season Not Far Off-Snow on Field Yours for the Asking

Sam Howell, Princeton's Associate Director of Athletics who books the schedules for Tiger teams, is hoping for a prolonged thaw even more than most people. The baseball team's 1978 season is listed for its opening game on March 19, less than four weeks from now, with Clarke Field still under almost a foot of snow.

If it opens as planned, the schedule will set two precedents: the first game will be played on a Sunday and the opponent will be Assumption College of Worcester, Mass., which has never met the Tigers on the diamond since the first game 114 years ago.

Coach Len Rivers' team, now working out daily in the cage in Jadwin Gym, is booked for 10 games in the first nine days, all hopefully to take place in warm, sunny Princeton, N.J. Four New England colleges, all from eastern Massachusetts, where there is more snow than there is here, will make what amounts to a southern trip in an effort to play outside before their own fields are dry.

After games on March 19 and 20 with Assumption, Fairfield, a New Jersey college which is also a newcomer to the Princeton schedule, will come here. It will be followed by Boston College, Holy Cross and Northeastern for two-day stands each. Holy Cross, often one of the better New England teams, is booked for three games, including a doubleheader on Saturday, March 25.

The Eastern League season will open with three tough road games in two days, involving a contest with Penn at Philadelphia on March 31 and a doubleheader with Columbia at Baker Field on April 1. The Lions, second to Cornell in the final standings last spring, will be particularly strong.

The first league games here will be played on April 14 and 15 against Brown and Yale. Navy and Cornell in doubleheaders and Army are the other league foes due here, while Dartmouth and Harvard (2) will be played away.

Both Princeton and West

Preliminary and quarter-final matches will start Friday evening at 6:30; semi-final matches Saturday at 2 and finals and consolation Saturday evening at 8. Seedings were scheduled to be released this Wednesday.

Out of 32 districts in the state, WW coach Ken Bernabe feels that District 17 has to be included in the top 10. The competition takes a quantum leap for Princeton area wrestlers because the district includes the two powerful Hunterdons, Hunterdon Central and North Hunterdon, plus Voorhees, only a notch below. As an example of the level of competition, Hunterdon Central defeated Pemberton, ranked second in the state, 33-17, last week.

Princeton High ended its regular season last week with a 32-17 victory over Notre Dame to win the Colonial Valley Conference title. The Little Tigers ended 13-1 in dual meet competition, far and away its best season ever. Their only loss was a two-point defeat at the hands of Delran.

Improvement Sought. "We hope to do better than we've ever done before, but it is hard to tell," said PHS coach Tom Murray about the district matches. "I don't know what the two Hunterdon teams have." Surprisingly, PHS was shot out in this event last year. "County-wise, we should make our best showing in years. We have a lot of good boys and we're looking forward to it."

IC4-A Track Meet Here to Attract 75 Colleges

Franklin Jacobs, the high jump artist of FDU, is one of 13 defending champions; Renaldo (Skeets) Nehemiah, the fine hurdler of Maryland, is one of the freshman stars making their debut in the 57th annual IC4A indoor track and field title meet which will climax the eastern season in Jadwin Gymnasium on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, March 4-5.

This is the eighth straight year that the Intercollegiate, with more than 75 colleges participating, are being staged at Princeton, whose spacious eight-lap track lured the IC4A from Madison Square Garden.

New Jersey's most interesting track meet of the year also will have a couple of world indoor record-holders for the first time since the IC4A moved to Princeton. Jacobs' indoor high jump record is 7-7 1/4. Though he now vows to jump only to win, he can hardly miss a record in this meet.

The IC4A meet record is 7-2 1/4, set by Harvard's Mel Embree two years ago. Last year when Jacobs broke through to his first significant title, he cleared 7-1 as an underdog, beating three rivals who cleared 7-0. Back to challenge the new king of the bar are Connecticut's Pat Augeri and Columbia's Charles Allen, Second and Third behind Jacobs last year.

Nehemiah comes to his first IC4A with major credentials. Indoor 60-yard recordholder at 7:07 (automatic timing); U.S. schoolboy No 1 of 1977, winner of his two Madison Square Garden races this winter against the likes of Larry Shipp, East Germany's Thomas Munkelt, the World Cup champion; Charles Foster, James Walker and other world class hurdlers. Nehemiah's main competition in the IC4A will come from his fellow Terrapin, Greg (Fly) Robertson, who swept all the IC4A hurdles crowns last year, indoor and out, including the 400-meter intermediate hurdles.

Besides Jacobs and Fly Robertson, the 1977 winners seeking repeat victories are Seton Hall's Calvin Dill, 60 yards; Seton Hall's Ed Brawn, 440; Adelphi's Kevin Price, 600; Villanova's Mark Belger and repaired Don Paige, 880 and 1000, respectively; Army's Curt Allitz, 2 miles; Providence's John Treacy from Ireland, 3 miles; Maryland's Dennis Ivory, long jump; William and Mary's

Dave Lipinski, pole vault. Villanova's Nate Cooper, triple jump, and Maryland's Ian Pyka, shot.

The Intercollegiate have a flavor all their own, the old college try the dominant theme, as the campus elite from the East strive for the 288 points distributed (6-4-3-2-1) for five scoring places in all 18 events, including three relays. Once again, the IC4A will be a showdown for the coveted team title between Villanova, 1977 winner with 51 points, and Maryland, the runnerup with 37.

Jumbo Elliott's 'Cats have 38 of their 51 points returning, headed by such stars as Belger, U.S. 800-meter indoor recordholder (1:48.1); Paige, Glenn Bogue, Derrek Harbhour, Sydney Maree, the 3:57.9 schoolboy miler from Pretoria, South Africa, now a freshman who has run 4:02.1 indoors here, and Nate Cooper. These Villanovans have the top performances in the IC4A this winter in the 440, 600, 880, 1000, mile and triple jump, plus all 3 relays.

But Frank Costello's Marylanders counter not only with Nehemiah and Robertson in the hurdles, but also freshman Bob Calhoun, whose recent 26-1 long jump is the all-time best indoors by an IC4A man (Calhoun could also win the sprint); by Brian Melly, 7-2 high jumper, defenders Ivory and Pyka, and swift relay teams as well as distance runners, Dave Cornwell and Dave Sandridge.

On Saturday, March 4, starting at 11 a.m. and finishing at 5:50, the program consists of two finals (long jump and weight throw) plus qualifying trials in everything else that requires qualifying tests.

On the second day, March 5, starting at 1:30 and finishing at 4:30, the remaining 16 finals will be contested, plus a non-scoring intercollegiate one mile walk, the only event in which a co-ed has participated in the 102-year history of the country's oldest track organization.

Appropriately New Jersey's top track meet has native Jerseyans in the spotlight - Jacobs from Paterson and Nehemiah from Fanwood - Scotch Plains High School, not to mention freshman Kevin Byrne, of Georgetown, who also makes his debut in this indoor classic. Byrne is the school mile ace from Paramus Catholic High, who has just won the National AAU junior qualifier for the world international cross-country championships.

Tickets are priced at $4 general admission on the first day and $5 for the second day. Student tickets are $2 and $3, respectively. Ticket requests may be sent to Princeton University, P.O. Box 71, Princeton.

center around its top three wrestlers - Matt Wilkinson, 108-pounder; Dave Wilson, 141 pounds, and Keith Wadsworth, 170 pounds. Wilson and Wadsworth are undefeated in 16 matches; Wilkinson (15-1) lost for the first time this season when he dropped a 3-1 decision to Notre Dame's Chris Cantwell in last week's final dual meet.

"Matt didn't wrestle well," commented Murray about the loss. "It may be a good thing in a way; his attitude is still good." He predicted that it was quite possible the two would meet again in the districts. He also predicted that his 188-pounder, Karim El-Meligi, who has lost only twice this season, should do well at Flemington.

"If everything goes all right, maybe we'll get a trip to Jadwin," he said. Two weeks after the NJSIAA regional matches (there are eight

Tennis This Weekend

The ninth annual Princeton Indoor Invitational Tennis Tournament will be held Friday through Sunday at Princeton University's Jadwin Gymnasium.

Among the 15 colleges participating will be: Yale, Harvard, Columbia, the University of Georgia, the University of North Carolina, the University of South Carolina, Southern Illinois University, Ohio State and Princeton.

Play begins Friday at 9 and will run until 8 p.m.; Saturday from 10 to 6; and on Sunday, the finals start at 11. The public is welcome.

regions in the state) the NJSIAA state finals will be held in Princeton's Jadwin Gym.

WW Ends 13-3. For Bernabe, Murray's counterpart, the past season has been rewarding, yet still frustrating. Beginning with only three returning starters - John Houtenville, Brian Fahey and Mark Edenfield - Bernabe and his Pirates fashioned a 13-3 record in dual meet competition, equalling last year's 13-3 mark when they won the CVC crown.

The Pirates ended their season Saturday by crushing Monroe, 61-3, (Monroe forfeited five bouts) and earlier stopping Hopewell Valley, 43-15. But as Bernabe pointed out, the Pirates have nothing to show for it.

"We have no banner from the Christmas tournament and no league trophy. (One of its three losses was a two-point defeat by PHS). "I feel naked," said Bernabe, but he allowed a few district championships would change all that in a hurry.

Last winter, West Windsor emerged with two district

The Peugeot Diesel:
An economy car for the self-indulgent.

Our Peugeot Diesel has much the same headroom and legroom as you'd find in a full-size luxury car. It comes with luxuries like power-assisted rack and pinion steering, four-wheel power disc brakes, fully reclining front bucket seats, two-stage metallic paint, a sliding sunroof, and four-wheel independent suspension for a smooth, stable ride—all as standard equipment. And now an optional three-speed automatic transmission.

But this incredibly luxurious car also gives you the economy of a diesel engine. You won't need any tune-ups. Just change the oil and filter by the book.

You won't need many fill-ups, either, because the Peugeot Diesel gets 35 mpg highway and 28 mpg city, according to EPA estimates.* And to top it off, diesel fuel nationally averages about 9¢ less per gallon than gasoline.†

So come in for a test drive. Because with a Peugeot Diesel, you can indulge yourself. And tell your friends you're just being practical.

champions -- Chris Holcombe and Houtenville. Houtenville will again be a leading contender in the 129-pound class with a 14-2 record, one of those two losses a pin by Ewing's Chuck Sackett.

West Windsor's other best prospects are Ralph Barletta, a fine leg wrestler, who is undefeated (15-0-1), and John Cummings, a transfer student from Ramapo High School in New York, who has a 13-3 mark. Barletta competes at 170 pounds. Cummings at 135.

Mark Edenfield (13-2) is the class 115-pounder in the county but he faces tough competition in his weight class. Tim Gunkel, WW heavyweight, is one of the best in his division.

"I feel confident we'll have a few in the finals," said Bernabe. "We want to get as many people as we can past Friday. Then we'll worry about Saturday when it comes."

TITLE ON THE LINE

For Hun Quintet, Hun School, the defending NJSIAA Prep "A" state champion, will begin defense of its title this week.

After drawing an opening round bye, the Huncagers will oppose Newark Academy this Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at the Peddie School gym in Hightstown. Hun enters the contest with an 18-4 record.

In the Class A other semifinal, Peddie will oppose Lawrenceville this Wednesday afternoon at the Hun gym. The two winners will meet Saturday on a neutral site to be determined. Hun, in regular season play this year, had defeated all three semifinalists.

"Hopefully, we can get by Newark Academy," said Hun coach Dave Leete, who is not taking anything for granted, after watching his team

Ivy Title to Wrestlers

The best wrestling team in Princeton's 71 years of participation in the sport won the Ivy title last week and in the process raised its season's record to 18 and 0. A match with Pennsylvania Saturday at 3 in Jadwin Gym, which it is expected to win easily, is the last on its schedule.

Columbia, unbeaten in Ivy action at 2 o'clock last Friday, by 3:30 was a 31-9 victim of the Tigers. Two of the matches went to Coach Johnny Johnston's team by default, including the heavyweight bout, which kept Captain John Seftor unbeaten.

On Saturday, the Orange and Black recorded a rare shutout in the sport, winning from Cornell, 39 to 0. Same day, it defeated Kent State, 26-13. Steve Grubman, who shed weight sufficiently to drop down a class to 142 pounds, joined Seftor by winning three times for an 18-0 record this winter.

become a 15-point upset victim to Academy of New Church Saturday night in Bryn Athyn, Pa. "We shot poorly and didn't play well," said Leete.

Hun still has a chance to win more than 21 games, its record number for one season. It will end its regular schedule with games against Pennington Prep at home on Friday (8 p.m.) and oppose Pennsylvania School for the Deaf Monday in its finale, a makeup contest.

After that, the playoff among the top four finishers in the Penn-Jersey League for the championship will begin next Friday and Saturday, sites to be determined. Hun and Germantown Friends, one of the four teams to defeat Hun this year, are expected to battle each other for the title.

In its only other start last week, aside from the New Church loss, Hun defeated Mitchell Prep, 91-76, behind the 31 points of Ron Payton.

Payton got lots of support from teammates Pete Black and Brian Lee, who combined for 39 more, Black getting 21.

JAGUARS TAKE CROWN

In Princeton Classic, The Princeton Soccer Club's 1960 All-Star team combined ball-handling and scoring last week to win the senior high division of The First Annual Princeton Classic.

The Jaguars opened with a 10-5 win over a surprisingly tough squad from Penoshury. Tom Bolster and Pat Gautier sparked a second half rally which broke a 4-4 half-time deadlock. The Jaguars were even more impressive later in the tournament, defeating West Windsor 15-3. Their only loss was at the hands of Wall Township, 7-6.

Fortunately for Princeton, Penoshury upset Wall enabling the Jaguars to win the tournament on the basis of total goals. Ron Celestin was outstanding for the home team, while Peter Mittnacht, Jon Miller, Dave Mancilla, and Dave Connell also turned in fine performances.

The Classic was the first indoor soccer tournament ever held in the Princeton community. Under the direction of Princeton Day School soccer coach Tom DeVito, the event attracted teams from all over the state.

PROGRAMS LISTED

By Windsor Recreation, The West Windsor Recreation Commission will once again sponsor an instructional wrestling program for youngsters in grades 4-8.

The program will be held on Thursday evenings in the West Windsor - Plainshoro High School gym. Registration will be held Saturday from 10 to 12 noon at the Municipal building. There is a $7 fee for the 10 week program.

The commission will also co-sponsor, with the Princeton chapter of the Red Cross, a water safety instruction course, beginning Tuesday at 7 in the high school pool. Participants must be 17 years or older and have a Red Cross Senior Life Saving card. The only fee is for the purchase of the Red Cross manual.

To register, call the Red Cross at 924-0404; information is also available from Jane Cox, 799-0908.

The West Windsor Recreation Commission will hold a meeting Monday at 8 in the municipal building for a discussion of the proposed park at Princeton Ivy East. The general public as well as Ivy East residents are invited. For additional information call the Recreation office, 799-2400.

The Commission, which is growing at a rapid rate, seeks more residents to become involved in its programs. Constantly in search of new ideas for programs so that the needs of the community will continue to be met, the Commission has openings for advisory members. Those who would like to become involved in the present and future of West Windsor's recreation are invited to call the director, Bob Bruschi, at 799-2400.

SEASON NEARS END

For Little Tiger Five, The Princeton High School basketball team continued to play out its string last week but with little success losing its 17th and 18th games to Lawrence High and Notre Dame. Both were league setbacks.

None too soon for the beleaguered Little Tigers the end of regular season play comes this week. PHS will entertain the Marie Katzenbach School for the Deaf this Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 in its home finale and then end its season Friday evening at 8 at Steinert.

That, however, will not be the final appearance of the PHS squad, which is dominated by underclassmen. Coach Marv Trotman reports that he will enter PHS in the annual NJSIAA post-season tournament for two reasons: to give his young players a taste of tournament competition and as a final gesture to Mike Fuschini, the only senior on the team and its leading scorer.

come to be known? Well, the state has changed its tune since then, and is now aware of the problem. The question is, what to do about it?"

A stream-walk of Harry's Brook revealed fish, may-fly larvae and green algae -- all signs of a healthy stream.

Suddenly, blue-green algae which are not desirable at all, and then the smell of sewage.

Danger Signal. "It was near Harrison Street. There is a sewer overflow and that blasted thing puts out sewage! We must look for things like this."

Many critics, and General Whipple is one, believe the DVRPC's 208 plans are much too vague and impractical, and lead people to think the water-quality act's goals are being achieved.

"Anyone who implies that, has got holes in his head," the General says flatly. "The important thing is how to accomplish technical matters without spending a mint of money."

"I believe Mercer County was imprudent to allow something as important as this to be done by the DVRPC in the first round."

In close cooperation with Allen Stark of the county planning board, General Whipple has worked out a plan involving a technical advisory service to be provided by the General and his Rutgers research set-up.

"We need an economical method of getting additional data on storm-water run-off. That kind of pollution can only be measured during storms, taking samples every five to 15 minutes throughout the storm -- well, this means nights or week-ends, in even the prediction of a storm, and this takes devotion.

"Graduate students will do this kind of thing -- they can even take a date along. Automatic samplers are expensive and complex.

"Environmental Insults." "Now, I also want a system of surveillance. Not monitoring, which I do not recommend. You would have teams stream-walking urban streams on a yearly basis with a biologist or trained grad student to take samples. This would show up illegal connecting pipes, blue-green algae or what one student calls 'environmental insults' like dumped chemicals.

"This team would also be available for trouble-shooting. Somebody calls in

Secretary of the Interior and the Federal Office of Water Research and Technology for a co-ordinated, inter-agency approach to the research.

"We're going after the appropriations committees asking $1 million more for a total of $7.5 for a three-year program."

And he adds after a moment, "It's the first time in 12 years I've had substantial New Jersey Congressional support."

It's a neglected area, the General has found.

"No research at all on the effect of urbanization on streams! Here in Princeton Township, you know, we require flood - detention basins. Well, why not re-design them slightly to catch particulates of heavy metals, hydrocarbons, phosphates? No research on this, either!

"Serious problems have been overlooked because they're outside the scope of a single Federal agency.

"Inter-group co-operation is required. I want local communities to help me get it....and we're going to get it!"

—Katharine H. Bretnall

The victim of a fourth period drought, PHS was heated Thursday by Lawrence, 70-63. The home team erupted for 26 points in the final eight minutes, while Princeton missed its first nine shots. As a result, the Cardinals were able to take a 63-54 lead with 1:36 left to play.

Lawrence placed five players in double figures, while PHS was getting 19 points from Kevin Robinson and 16 from Fuschini. The Little Tigers led in the opening minutes, 10-3.

Princeton jayvee coach Ed Beacham, directing the team in the absence of Trotman, who was sidelined with the flu, attributed the collapse in the final period to inexperience.

Pointing out that PHS was going with two freshmen and two sophomores in the final period, Beacham said that was a lot of pressure to put on young kids. When things get tight near the end, he added, there is a tendency to forget team play and run-and-gun. "You don't win games like that."

Fuschini Ejected. Earlier in the week, any hope that PHS might upset favored Notre Dame soon faded. With 3:18 to go in the first period, Fuschini Sapoch led PHS with 15 each, hitting on 11 shots from the foul line. Sean Tobin, another freshman, and Kevin Robinson added 10 each for PHS. Fireall, who has a shot at becoming Mercer County's leading all-time scorer, led all players with 26.

Diving competition for high school swimmers will start Friday at 2, for prep schools at 6:30. On Saturday, time trials for all swimmers will start at 9 a.m.
